NEWS in BRIEF

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — The army today seized control of Guatemala City to halt pillaging and disorders.

An army communique said the action was taken to safeguard the citizenry "in view of the events of recent days." At least 13 persons have been killed in the past three days in what the government has classified as "Castro-Communist subversion."

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon charged Thursday Gov. Edmund G. Brown threatened assemblymen with reprisals if they voted to put all five bond issues for school construction on the November ballot.

GENEVA (UPI) — Brazil, first of the non-aligned nations to speak up at the 17-nation disarmament conference, demanded today that the United States cancel its plans for nuclear tests.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Republican leader appointed to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee by the Democrats over his protest today charged that the majority party wasn't following any of his budget-trimming suggestions.

Assemblyman John A. Buserud, R-San Francisco, said he was disappointed and a little discouraged.

SUMMERTON, S. C. (UPI) — H. B. Davis Jr., campaigned hard for a city council seat and political observers predicted the race would be close.

Davis took his wife to the polls Thursday to cast their ballots. They were unable to find their voting certificates, however, and were not allowed to vote. When the final tabulations were in Thursday night, Davis had lost — by one vote.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that "the road to the East is closed... forever" to the Western powers through Berlin.

Khrushchev, addressing an election rally, declared the German problem must be settled and a German peace treaty must be concluded.

Death Claims Veteran Newsman John B. Long

SAN MARINO (UPI) — John Budd Long, for 34 years general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association and the founder of National Newspaper Week, died in his sleep of a heart attack Thursday night. He was 68.

He retired from his CNPA post Feb. 15. Long, who had been in ill health for some time, was honored at the annual CNPA convention at Coronado, Feb. 10 for his long, devoted service to the newspaper profession in California.

Indian Land Bids Top Half-Million

Acceptable bids totaling $549,520 for five parcels of allotted Indian lands totaling 150.52 acres were opened in the Bureau of Indian Affairs office in Palm Springs Thursday.

Ray W. Jackson, chief of the bureau here since Nov., 1957, termed

City Board's Traffic Flow Study Starts

Immediate and urgent traffic flow problems are confronting Palm Springs at the intersections of Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive and Tahquitz-McCallum at Indian and Palm Canyon Drives. These were recognized as rating immediate attention by the newly formed Traffic Advisory Commission at its meeting this morning in City Hall conference rooms.

Also up for immediate study is the possible extension of Belardo Road and Calle Encelia to provide additional north-south traffic flow through the downtown area to relieve congestion at present on Indian and Palm Canyon.

The resolution along these lines stressed, however, that the Traffic Advisory Commission realized that its objective was an all-over program for solution of traffic flow, parking and safety problems.

In the organizational meeting, Chairman Harold Hicks, Frank Miller and Carl W. Schoons were chosen by lot to serve four-year terms and Arnold Kunody and Leo Baker for two-year terms. Meetings were set on a regular weekly Friday morning schedule.

MTA Board Set To Study Fares

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Board members of the Metropolitan Transit Authority will meet Monday to discuss the effect settlement of labor negotiations may have on fares.

Long was known not only in California, but throughout the United States for his accomplishments, for his tireless fight for freedom of information.

He was sponsor of the first "Freedom of Press" legislation in California, designed to protect the newsman and his sources and to open all governmental meetings to press coverage.

He is survived by his wife, Berthe, and a son, Dair, of Newport Harbor, Calif.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

JFK's Mother Is Comfortable

BOSTON (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Kennedy, the President's mother, remained "quite comfortable" today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital where she is recuperating from major surgery.

Mrs. Kennedy, 71, probably will remain at the hospital for at least another week. She was operated on last Tuesday for a pelvic hernia.

Armada in Search of Lost Plane

Over 100 on Missing Craft

CLARK AIR FORCE BASE, Philippines (UPI)—An armada of planes and ships searched the vast darkness of the Western Pacific tonight for a chartered airliner that disappeared and probably crashed with 107 persons aboard, including 93 American soldiers en route to embattled Viet Nam.

Every available plane in the area between Guam and Manila was ordered into the search for the Flying Tiger Line Super Constellation which vanished Thursday night about an hour and a half after taking off from Guam.

But searchers reported no trace of wreckage or life rafts that might indicate survivors.

There was little hope for the 93 Army men, three Vietnamese soldiers and 11 crewmen, because a full 24 hours had passed since the plane disappeared after a final position report from the pilot, Capt. Gregory Thomas, Red Bank, N.J., a colorful and heroic flier.

Third Disaster in Month

If the plane is lost it will be the third major air disaster this month. An American Airlines Boeing 707 jet crashed in New York March 1 with a loss of 95 lives and a chartered Caledonian Airlines DC7 crashed in a swampy jungle near Douala in the Cameroon Republic of West Africa March 4, killing 111 persons.

The missing Flying Tiger plane started its flight at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco. It stopped at Honolulu, Wake Island and Guam. It took off from Guam for Clark AFB Thursday night. Capt. Thomas made a radio report an hour and 26 minutes after saying his position was about 300 miles west of Guam and 1,200 miles east of the Philippines.

Senate Group Requests More Refugee Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate subcommittee has recommended that the government do more for refugees, particularly the ones who fled communism.

A subcommittee report to be filed soon with the Senate said refugee programs have been limited for the most part to supplying food, clothing, housing and medical care. This is insufficient to make many refugees self-supporting, it said.

The Senate refugee subcommittee headed by Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., urged more cash assistance and more surplus food for those who "voted with their feet, leaving all to find treatment."

'AMERICAN QUEEN'

Jacqueline Floats Down Ganges

UDAIPUR, India (UPI)— Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, looking like the "American queen" the Indian have nicknamed her, floated down the Ganges in a white launch today and watched Hindus bathing at the banks of the sacred river.

Wearing a brilliant sleeveless sheath dress of shocking pink, the first lady sat on an overstuffed green chair while an attendant shaded her from the sun with a parasol. The boat was decorated with marigolds.

The Ganges boat ride was in Benares, holiest of Indian cities. Then she went on to this foothill city where she received the biggest reception of her Indian tour.

She will be the guest here of the Maharana of Udaipur, who was one of the highest ruling princes of British-ruled India.

Hopes High for Algerian Talks

EVIAN, France (UPI) — Hopes for an early end to the Algerian cease-fire negotiations rose today with the settlement of the most difficult military question.

As usual, French officials and Algerian rebel leaders seeking an end to the 7-year-old Algerian war refused to comment on their talks, but sources close to the conference said spirits in both camps had taken a dramatic turn upward.

The sources said Thursday's 9-hour negotiating session had produced some "fruitful" bargaining on tough issues that had caused the talks, now in their 10th day, to bog down.

The sources said it was "a day of thaw, of genuine progress."

Sources close to the French delegation said the negotiators had reached an agreement on the key issue of what to do with guerrilla units of the rebel army after the cease-fire is declared. They declined to give any details.

Rebel sources said the French virtually had agreed to let the approximately 9,000 rebel soldiers in Algeria remain in territory they now occupy. Previously, the French insisted that the rebel troops be confined to certain small areas, depending on French troops for provisions.

The importance of security functions in Algeria, after the cease-fire, was underscored again by another outburst of terrorism in the territory yesterday. Authorities attributed most of the violence to the rightwing Secret Army Organization (OAS), which is opposed to Algerian independence.

Moslem schoolteachers, garage mechanics and filling station workers in Algeria called strikes to protest the machinegun execution of three Moslem and three European social workers.

On the trip down the Ganges, Jackie sat facing sideways between Indian Ambassador to the United States B. K. Nehru, who wore a pith helmet, and Benares Mayor K.B. Gupta.

She sat directly beneath a large white parasol with gold-fringed border, held by an attendant in white turban, white tunic and red sash.

Thousands of Indians lined the broad river banks. Only a relatively few of the pilgrims were taking dips in the greenish muddy waters, but those stood up to their necks to be "purified."

The Indian custom is to enter the river shortly after sunrise from one of the 80 bathing ghats—long stairs leading into the water. Mrs. Kennedy made her voyage late in the morning.

Another Orbit Also Claimed By Premier

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the United States today Russia has developed a new global rocket invulnerable to antimissile defense and rendering America's polar radar detection system obsolete.

Khrushchev coupled his rocket threat with surprise revelation that Soviet scientists today had launched into orbit a new earth satellite. The Tass news agency said it carried instruments.

Addressing a huge Kremlin election rally at the same time foreign ministers were talking disarmament in Geneva, Khrushchev said the new Soviet missile could "fly around the world and deliver a blow on any target."

Khrushchev said the United States had wasted the vast sums of money spent on a radar system to try and intercept "our Soviet rockets coming across the Arctic."

"Rockets can now fly from quite a different direction from that in which the radar has been aimed," he said.

Shaking his fist, Khrushchev said Americans do not understand how vulnerable they have become.

"The logical means of warning is disarmament," he said. "The logical thing is to disarm and sign the treaty. I repeat, there is no real way of warning."

The premier's declarations were interpreted as a means of massive Soviet pressure on the West at the time of the Geneva talks.

Khrushchev's speech, delivered before 6,000 in the Kremlin Palace of Congresses preceding next Sunday's balloting for the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet, ranged from missiles to warnings about Germany.

The announcement that a new space vehicle was in orbit and had at that time circled the earth three times was made early in the talk.

Khrushchev did not say whether or not it was manned, but later Tass revealed it carried instruments, a radio telemetric system and transmitter. Tass added that a series of artificial satellites will be launched from different "cosmodromes" in the course of 1962.

'The Mightiest,' Titan-2, Fired In Maiden Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The United States today fired its mightiest intercontinental ballistic missile, the Titan-2, on a successful 5,000-mile trip across the Atlantic Ocean in its maiden test flight.

The 103-foot missile is already tabbed for the job of lifting one and two-man U. S. spaceships into orbit starting in about two years.

The Air Force said the giant rocket "accomplished all its test objectives" on its first trip from the pad.

Reds Claim U.S. Killing Arms Talks

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union charged the United States today with sabotaging the nuclear test ban talks here to clear the way for resumption of American atmospheric blasts in the Pacific next month.

Chief Soviet nuclear negotiator Semyon Tsarapkin told a news conference that Secretary of State Dean Rusk was not taking a "serious" approach to the problem.

He repeated Russia's claim that international controls and inspection were completely unnecessary to police a test ban agreement. He added that the British and Americans know this.

He said the United States had "checked and published" every nuclear test blast ever set off by the Russians. And the Soviet Union, he declared, was able to identify every U.S. explosion, including the underground tests in Nevada.

Tsarapkin described as "impossible" President Kennedy's proposal that a nuclear test ban treaty contain safeguards against secret preparations for such experiments. In response to a question, he added that he did not think the American suggestion, which Russia rejected Thursday, was "serious."

"The Soviet Union's impression," he said, "is that the United States would like to create such a condition which would permit them to go along with their decision to resume nuclear explosions in the atmosphere."

He made his charges just after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced in Moscow that another Russian space ship was in orbit.

It came, too, just after the United States and Russia moved to work out arrangements for a series of informal secret meetings at which neutral nations can obtain full details of their rival disarmament plans.

Circus Rodeo to Get Rent Break

A reduction in the minimum rental rates of the Palm Springs rodeo grounds for the two-day Desert Circus rodeo was approved Thursday by the city park and recreation board.

Guatemala Head Asks Red Defense

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes called on the people Thursday night to defend Guatemala against the "Castro-Communist subversion" that he blamed for at least 13 deaths in this country this week.

In a radio-television speech, Ydigoras said many loyal Guatemalans already are "mobilizing voluntarily" and converging on the capital "to defend national institutions and public order."

The president said the revolt reported in the hills north of here was a minor matter, involving no more than 25 Castro sympathizers "all whom have been beaten, killed or taken prisoner."

Earlier government announcements had reported 12 rebels killed since Tuesday by loyal troops in the Granados area, 22 miles north of here.

Ydigoras said the students blamed for the rioting here were "blind tools of Machiavellian politicians" following a Communist blueprint for subversion.

Violence here appeared to be easing.

Modesto Trial Jury Ready for Monday Hearing

RIVERSIDE (UPI)—A jury will begin hearing testimony Monday at the trial of Lawrence Modesto, 31, accused of slaying two young sisters in India after an argument with their father.

A panel of six men and six women, plus four alternates, was completed Thursday before Superior Judge Russell Waite.

Modesto has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity for the bludgeoning slaying of Connie Mack, 12, and her sister, Mae, 9, last Oct. 29. He was accused of killing them following an argument with their father, Ardell Mack, in a bar near their home.

Loeb Named to State Council

Carl W. Loeb Jr., of La Quinta, has been named as a member of the newly organized California Council on Crime and Delinquency it was announced today.

The California Council will act as a member of the National Council of the same name and consists of 45 recognized civic leaders from throughout the state.

Passenger cars moving on conveyor belts have been proposed as a solution to pedestrian traffic problems in congested urban areas. The system is called "Carveyor."

The board, headed by Herb Esbitz, recommended the rate be reduced from $175 daily to $100, or 10 per cent of the gross if it exceeded the $100.

Dr. Bernard Poliak, board member who is also a member of the district school board, reported on the drafting of an agreement between the city and the school district for district purchase of a park site adjacent to the Section 2 school.

The agreement was approved by the district board last night with a price stipulation for city purchase. The agreement must be approved by the city council.

The park board recommended to the planning commission that new subdivisions be required to give a dedicated bridal path right of way in new subdivisions, to ensure continuance of the horse trails here.

The board directed a letter to the city planning commission opposing the placement of a day nursery on Tamarisk Park grounds. The board emphasized that the day nursery project, headed by Mrs. Frank Bennett, is a fine community project, but that the park master plan is set and additional space is not available.

Strike May Halt Pacific Coast Ships

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A federal mediation panel made last ditch efforts to prevent a strike scheduled for today which would tie up shipping on the Pacific Coast for the third time in 10 months.

Three sea-going unions, representing 12,000 sailors on 120 West Coast vessels, have announced they will post pickets at 5 p.m. PST unless a contract agreement is reached with the Pacific Maritime Association.

Negotiations between the PMA and the three unions—Marine Firemen, Sailors, and Cooks and Stewards—broke down Wednesday night when they were unable to reach agreement on a new contract to replace one that expired Oct. 1.

The federal mediation panel said it was "keeping in contact" with both sides in an effort to resume negotiations. The unions and the PMA were reported about $6 million apart on a three-year contract.

Effects of the dispute already have been felt. Union members have refused since Tuesday to sign articles for new voyages, tying up a score of ships.

Swimmer Finds House Ransacked

Gary Boswell, 17, 2030 E. Amado Road, returned from a swim Thursday to find himself $45 poorer.

Boswell told police he went swimming at approximately 3:30 p.m., and returned to his home at 5:30 p.m. to find the house ransacked, and his wallet missing. The wallet contained $45 in cash, plus driver's licenses, social security cards, and identification cards.

Police commented that the ransacking was not a neat job.

Got His Trouble From Chicken, Traffic Combine

Chicken and traffic combined for trouble for John Hawkins, 53, of Thunderbird Country Club, Palm Springs police reported today.

Hawkins, accompanied by Sally Hawkins, 49, Winnetka, Ill., and Addie Mae Edwards, 73-355 Grapevine St., Palm Desert was east bound on East Palm Canyon Drive at 3:30 a.m. today. As he neared Araby Drive, eating some recently purchased chicken, Hawkins was crowded by approaching traffic, he told investigating officers. His car went out of control a tenth of a mile east of Araby Drive, and struck the south shoulder of the road.

The vehicle then skidded across East Palm Canyon Drive, and plunged over the north embankment 195 feet from the first point of impact. No one was injured. Officers cited Hawkins for driving without due caution.

Here Is How California Voted on Welfare Slash

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Here is how California representatives voted Thursday on a roll call vote that defeated a Republican move to eliminate $140 million in budget - boosting welfare payments from a bill to reform the welfare program.

Voting for the amendment were 11 Democrats and 145 Republicans. Voting against were 214 Democrats and 17 Republicans. California, 16 Democrats, 14 Republicans.

Democrats against — Cohelan.

Park Site Buy Inches Some Nearer

School district purchase of a 10-acre park adjacent to the Section 2 school site for joint city-school use inched closer last night, as the Palm Springs district school board gave approval to a proposed district-city agreement.

The board specified in the approved draft that the city purchase of the park site — on or before Jan. 1, 1965 — would be for an amount not exceeding $62,000. The city has verbally agreed to purchase the site for the understood price of $60,000, the price to be paid seventh-grader Rosanna Saubel for the land.

The city asked the board to purchase the land for joint city-school use, because the city was only $15,000 in the bank for the purchase now. The additional money could be raised in annual increments, but the Indian land sales cannot be made on long-term contracts.

The school district has approved the plan, and designed the Section 2 school grounds in expectation of joint park usage.

One Norwegian Is Having His Troubles Here

Things just don't seem to go right in Palm Springs for Gunnar Frenger, Norwegian industrialist who for the last two years has been dividing his time between Milan, Italy, the French Riviera and our sunny desert.

It seems jinxed here, though. Shortly after his arrival last season he suffered a heart attack.

Then within minutes of his flight here the other night Gunnar walked through a plate glass partition at Indian Wells Hotel and wound up in Desert Hospital.

But at the hospital the big congenial Scandinavian was undaunted. He swore he'd be out riding horses as soon as the bandages could accommodate a hat.

JFK Set On State Itinerary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House has announced a detailed schedule for President Kennedy's California trip next week.

The chief executive is going to the West Coast primarily for a speech at the University of California in Berkeley, and two days of relaxation in the Palm Springs area where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been vacationing.

The White House said it knew of no plans for Kennedy and Eisenhower to see each other.

The President is scheduled to leave Andrews Air Force Base by Jet transport early Friday, March 23. He will land at 11 a.m. PST at Alameda Naval Air Station.

Kennedy will motor to the Berkeley campus for lunch. He will address a special university Charter Day ceremony at 2:30 p.m. after receiving an honorary degree.

Kennedy will motor back to Alameda, take off at 3:15 p.m. for a 50-minute flight to Vandenberg Air Force Base where he will inspect space installations.

He was scheduled tentatively to take off from the air base about 6:30 p.m. and arrive about 50 minutes later at the Palm Springs airport. From there he will motor to the secluded compound where he will remain until late Sunday night.

The White House declined to identify the specific location, but California sources said the President and some members of his party would spend Saturday and Sunday in the resort homes of singer Bing Crosby and song writer Jimmy VanHusen in the Shadow Mountain district outside Palm Springs.

The president planned to leave Palm Springs Sunday night arriving back in Washington at about 8 a.m. EST Monday.

There are three questions that haunt the minds of men. Though stated in different ways they can be epitomized in these words: Is there mercy with God? Is death a blank wall or an open door? Can life be lived victoriously?

The answer to the first question, "Is there mercy with God? Is there forgiveness for one who has sinned against God again and again?" comes from the cross as Jesus, the incarnate God, looks down on the motley crowd who had brought him there to be crucified and prays, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do."

The answer to the second question, "Is death a blank wall or an open door?" comes from the empty tomb where the risen Christ says to Mary Magdalene, "Go to my brethren and say to them, I am ascending to my father and your father, to my God and your God."

The answer to the third question, "Can life be lived victoriously?" Is there power to meet the frustrations of life and to build on blasted hopes and broken dreams?" comes from the Upper room where once defeated and discouraged men came forth with courage, joy and power that shook the world.

To these three questions the Lenten season has come again with a resounding affirmative to say to every man, "Yes, there is mercy with God. Death may be an open door. Your life can be one of victory and joy and power."

Judy Jorgensen, Harnage Win B'nai B'rith Honors

Judy Jorgensen, 16-year-old high school senior, shared top essayists honors with senior Phil Harnage, in the Palm Springs B'nai B'rith scholarship contest.

Judy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jorgensen, 68-735 G St., Cathedral City, and Harnage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harnage, 66-719 Hatchet Cactus Drive, Desert Hot Springs, won $100 awards for their essays on the meaning of brotherhood.

The B'nai B'rith has been active in brotherhood and patriotic programs throughout the country. H. M. Frankel, local president said, Judy's essay stressed that brotherhood is a common goal of individuals. Harnage likewise stressed the individual personal values of brotherhood.

Judges for the essay contest were Dr. Edwin Ingles, Palm Desert; Mrs. Lucile Steck, and Mrs. Margo Morrison, Palm Springs.

Officers from Bank of America's two branches in Palm Springs will join officers from 35 other branches in Riverside and San Bernardino counties at a dinner meeting next Tuesday at the Riverside Elks Club.

They will hear Nolan Browning, senior vice president from Southern California headquarters at Los Angeles, discuss the importance of "community responsibility" as a primary factor in the lending activities of local branches.

Over 200 officers are expected to attend the semi-annual affair, which will be presided over this time by Roy E. H. Swedeen, manager of the Second and E branch in San Bernardino.

Those who will attend from the Palm Springs and Tahquitz-McCallum and Farrell branches are: Palm Springs Branch: F. G. Ingram, T. W. Madouros, R. J. Taylor, G. H. Mitchell, B. G. Baker, L. D. Wolfe, Jim Veach, Betty Hamilton, Bette Youngberg, Jo Weander and Phyllis Crawford; Tahquitz-McCallum Branch: H. C. West, Hal Werner and Chris Nelson.

Mortgage bankers from all parts of California will be in Palm Springs April 4 to 7 for the seventh annual convention of the California Mortgage Bankers Association, John D. Lyman, president of the organization, said today. The Riviera Hotel will be the headquarters for the four-day meeting.

California development, the general economy and forecasts of the real estate future will be discussed. Speakers from leading financial circles of the United States will appear on the program, Lyman said. He anticipates an attendance of 400 mortgage bankers and their wives.

Commodity Investment Total Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's investment in price-supported commodities totaled $7,855,404,000 as of Jan. 31. This was about $170 million greater than the investment a month earlier.

The investment was made up of about $5 billion in commodities owned outright by the Commodity Corp. and the rest in outstanding loans on farm products still held by producers.

The investment as of Jan. 31 compared with an investment of $8,108,132,000 on the same date a year earlier.

Wheat continued to be the top item in the investment. The Government owned outright 1.1 billion bushels of wheat valued at $2.2 billion and held loans on 270 million bushels valued at $484 million.

Corn in inventory totaled 1.3 billion bushels valued at $1.6 billion. Loans on 657 million bushels were worth $726 million.

The corporation's total net loss from all operations, including adjustments to reserves for losses, amounted to $1,248,030,255 for the seven-month period ended Jan. 31, as compared to $806,454,933 for the same period a year earlier.

The amount of agricultural imports the United States gets from abroad depends upon the domestic price situation. Higher domestic prices stimulate imports while lower prices discourage them.

An example of this is the recent fluctuation in cattle and meat imports as prices changed. Reduced cow slaughter in 1958 accompanied by higher prices for processing beef caused imports of non-breeding cattle and meat to rise to $507 million in fiscal 1959.

As domestic cow slaughter increased in the summer of 1960, the price for slaughter cows broke sharply, and non-breeding cattle and meat imports fell to $382 million in 1961. The department said that larger-than-normal beef imports in the past three years can be associated with a level of cow slaughter so low that prices for canner and cutter cows at Chicago were well above $12 per hundredweight. When prices remained below this level, imports dropped sharply.

The United States imports agricultural commodities from more than 125 countries, but more than half comes from only 10 countries. In fiscal 1961, more than 53 per cent of U.S. farm imports came from Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, the Philippines, Canada, New Zealand, Dominican Republic, Indonesia, Australia, and Argentina.

Around Town

WITH HILDY CRAWFORD

Friday, March 16, 1962

Looking to the great Midwest Palm Springs will curtsy to the State of Illinois this Desert Circus, which starts next week, and plans still in the making are exciting ones.

Traditionally Desert Circus Weeks kicks off with the Deputies' Luncheon and High Sheriff Harry Chaddick will host the deputies at the Tennis Club next Wednesday, with girls appearing in western clothes to have their pictures taken and bringing their Desert Circus tote bags to receive their tickets and badges. From the luncheon they will go forth prepared to sell tickets to any and all events, to sell immunity badges and to hand out subpoenas for Kangaroo Court.

That's only the beginning, for Thursday night will be the Night on the Town, when busloads of girl deputies, the High Sheriff and his two special deputies Dom Da-Rosa and Tony Cosentino, will raid the night spots.

This year's arrangements are slightly different from previous ones. Deputies will meet at the Tennis Club at 6:30 for cocktails and snacks, before boarding the buses for the night on the town. Buses, which will start out from the club at 7:30, will return there at 10:30 for a late supper and dancing. Anyone wishing to join in the late supper dance, may make table reservations.

KEELY SMITH, darling of the nightclubs, who will soon have her own television program, and who is booked to open at the Hotel Riviera in Las Vegas on May 22, will join Frankie Lane on the stellar program for the Land of Lincoln Ball.

BEAUTIFUL BALL GOWNS joined smartly cut suits and chic dresses in Werle's first desert showing at Thunderbird Country Club's Gal's Day style show luncheon.

New Best-Selling Author Appears at Salon Program

Leland Frederick Cooley, author of "God's High Table," television producer and director, recounted some of the incredible consequences of using an actual town in Washington State as the setting for his newest novel, when he made a guest appearance on the Edna Lillich Davidson salon luncheon at El Mirador.

"God's High Table," which is already appearing on best-seller lists all over the country only a few weeks after publication, is being called "the novel that changed a town," but may easily become the novel that changed a valley or perhaps an entire state. The book deals with the struggle for the vital highway over the Cascades to the deep waterport on Puget Sound and is a remarkable compound of fact and fiction which made the issue come alive in such dramatic fashion that the North Cross-state Highway is now a fact.

In gratitude the citizens of Twisp, Wash., changed the name of their town to "Mill City," the name used in the book. In addition, Governor Rossellini has invited Cooley to be guest of honor at a "God's High Table" luncheon.

to be held in Olympia in late April, and the University of Washington has asked the author to be a guest panelist at the Annual International Writers Conference next July.

Long-time writer-producer of the Perro Como Show, Cooley also has an interesting background in television work.

Mrs. Davidson reviewed a number of current books, including "Scott Fitzgerald" by Andrew Turnbull, "In High Places" by Arthur Hailey and MM's new film "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Because the next luncheon will mark the second anniversary of the Palm Springs salons, Mrs. Davidson is planning a special program for April 11.

Spring Styles Set Theme for Luncheon Show

"Visions of Springtime" will theme the fashion show luncheon, which the Women's Association of the Palm Springs Community Church will hold March 20 at 12:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Tables will be decorated with baskets of spring flowers and there will be other baskets of flowers, suspended from the ceiling. Background music by Mrs. John Frederickson will also carry out the springtime theme.

The style show of spring and resort wear will be staged by Faye-Rence, with shoes from Ted Land.

Another feature on the program will be songs by Wynne Hammond's pupils, with Mrs. Hammond as accompanist.

Mrs. James Blackstone will conduct the devotionals and display foreign costumes in keeping with missionary work.

Mrs. Daniel Newton, association president will conduct the meeting, which will be preceded by a salad luncheon arranged by Mrs. J. W. Farrell of Rebecca Circle and Mrs. James Mason of Esther Circle, assisted by committeewomen from both circles.

Also assisting with the day's program will be Mrs. James Schilling, fashion show chairman; Mmes. Arthur Freeman, John Kisson and Claude Yerkes, decorations; Mrs. John Williams, tickets; Mrs. Wilson Hall, table arrangements; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yesley, coffee preparation; Mrs. Merritt Williams, favors; James Schilling, program designs and posters, with Mrs. Lyman Bannister assisting.

Tickets may be secured from Mrs. John Williams or by calling the church. Donations are $1.50.

Exciting Collection Shown

Werle, handsome young Beverly Hills designer, was unable to be present (flu prevented) for Gal's Play Day style show luncheon at Thunderbird but his exciting new collection was there to speak for him and his associate Jose Hernandez was there to commentate.

Presented by LaVere Whaley's Originals, the collection was marked by clarity of design and purity of line. Like many French couturiers, the Werle styling has smart simplicity in fine fabrics. These are clothes that can go anywhere.

Of especial interest were the new asymmetrical gowns that are a diverted tunic effect with triangular cuts.

Opening the show was a dark suit of men's wear, worn with a bowler hat and tightly-furled umbrella, that would look smart on the streets of New York, Paris or London and was a conversation piece in Palm Springs.

New too was the cape back dress, like the blue green meditation lace, modeled by Barbara Marx, that was a simple sheath with the cape coming to a point below the waistline and the neck scooped low above it.

Mary Farmer was striking in a sheer wool gown with black blouse and charcoal full skirt with charcoal kerchief effect at the throat.

An Italian corduroy coat had the ever popular dolman sleeves and deep round collar. Dramatic was the tight, form-fitting black sheath hung with black chantilly lace, and gorgeous was the only word to describe the Swiss embroidered silk chiffon in multi-pastels and gold, with its full circular many-layered skirt and bare shoulders over which a matching stole was draped.

One of the most unusual gowns in the showing was a French ceremonial lace that made a ribbon-like patterning on the net lower skirt, which joined a double chiffon bodice.

A finale of beautiful ball gowns, some bouffant and some slim but mostly long, won applause that was admired at the whole show.

Co-chairman for the luncheon showing were Mrs. Co Thornton and Mrs. Ned Bishop, Mrs. Everett Kelloway, who is in charge of the Play Days, welcomed the crowds that filled Thunderbird's main dining rooms.

'Bankruptcy' Will Be Topic

Attorney Gertrude Thaxter will speak on "Bankruptcy," when the Credit Women's Breakfast Club holds a dinner meeting at Laurie's Steak Ranch, on March 19 at 6:30 p.m.

Betty Hamilton, president, urges all members and those interested in credit to attend the meeting. Reservations may be made by calling Woodcraft of California.

Minister of Music Sings On Association Program

A crowd of about 200 members and visitors enjoyed the program when the Women's Association of the Palm Springs Community Church presented John Gustafsson at its monthly meeting in Fellowship Hall, with Mrs. Daniel Newton, association president, conducting the meeting.

Minister of music to the First Baptist Church of Van Nuys, Gustafsson presented an hour-long program of spiritual and secular songs, with Lona Wig, also of Van Nuys, accompanying him at the piano. He included "The Whole World in His Hands," "It Took a Miracle" and "Glory, Glory Hallelujah."

Devotions were led by Mrs. Charles Brown, wife of the assistant minister.

Following the program, refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table, centered with an arrangement of carnations and daisies with a candelabra holding green tapers.

In charge were Mrs. J. W. Freirell of Rebecca Circle and Mrs. James Mason of Esther Circle, with their committees.

MINISTER OF MUSIC at a Van Nuys Church, John Gustafsson, was on the program for the monthly meeting of the Women's Association of Palm Springs Community Church.

HILLY CRAWFORD—Editor
SUE RAYMOND—Associate Editor
Friday, March 16, 1962 THE DESERT SUN Page 5

ON JACQUELINE

Out of Limbo

Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jacqueline Kennedy's wardrobe for her Indian and Pakistani tour puts the crowning touch to the princess silhouette for spring and summer.

The princess shape went into limbo in the style world there for a while, as fashion leaders went overboard for the overblouse of two-piece look in both day and evening clothes. The overblouse became a trademark with Mrs. Kennedy in her first months in the White House.

But some of the nation's leading designers decided this spring it was time to return to a more fitted silhouette and bring back the princess.

Now, with Mrs. Kennedy accepting it, watch for a grand sweep—just as last year there was that overwhelming fad for the pillbox hat because of the first lady's preference for it. (On this Indian tour, off-face berets and back-of-the-head berets have dominated her hat styles.)

The White House refused to give details of the first lady's travel wardrobe. But spokesmen for Oleg Cassini, one of Mrs. Kennedy's pet designers, would. (The dapper Oleg is in France).

Cassini made "13 or 14" costumes for the first lady and it's believed she took the bulk of them with her.

These are described as "demure fit or princess"—a soft moulding of the figure without cinch or belt at the waistline, and flared slightly from the hips down. No snugness. And, a shaping of the fabric to give, in many cases, a slightly raised look to the bosom.

Most evening gowns have bare tops with shoulder straps and some have what the Cassini office called "peeper" backs. Some of the princess shape coats have carigan type necklines (collarless, like a cardigan sweater). Others have rolled collars. Coats are divided equally between single and double-breasted.

Also undoubtedly packed by the first lady: Clothes from Chez Ninon, the New York firm which specializes in custom adaptations of French designer fashions; and from designers Donald Brooks of New York and Gustave Tassell of California.

Mrs. Kennedy, a customer at Chez Ninon since her marriage, spent an hour and one-half at the Park Avenue salon the day of her departure. The firm said there was one selection—a pale green and white organza dress, beaded, topped by a short jacket. The dress has a high, round neck, and long, tight skirt.

THE ATMOSPHERE and a little green paint might have turned the ace of clubs into the ace of shamrocks, when 37 women gathered for a St. Patrick's Day luncheon

Members of B & PW Will Receive Pins

Mrs. Golda Manley, membership chairman, will present pins to new members of the Desert Business and Professional Women's Club, during a candlelight ceremony and dinner meeting, to be held at the Pink Plum Restaurant in Palm Desert, on March 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Those receiving pins will be: Mmes. Lila Hodgen, Marlyn Monty, Dolores Cordes, Jeanne Fox, Betty Jean Christie, Zella McManus, Margaret Brower, and Misses Lola Gardner, Lila Hodgen and Elsie Stephan.

Mrs. Mary Allred will conduct the ceremony, and Mrs. Helen Swartzbaugh, president, will preside during the meeting and introduce guests.

The flag salute will be led by Mrs. Peggy Williams, and the Collect given by Mrs. Marion Rizzo.

Mina Eisenman is ticket chairman, and Mabel Taylor in charge of prizes.

Arnold Kings Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Armond King of Skokie, Ill., who spent seven weeks visiting the Hawaiian Islands, flew to the mainland last weekend and this week they are houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. David C. Gaede at their San Gabriel Circle home.

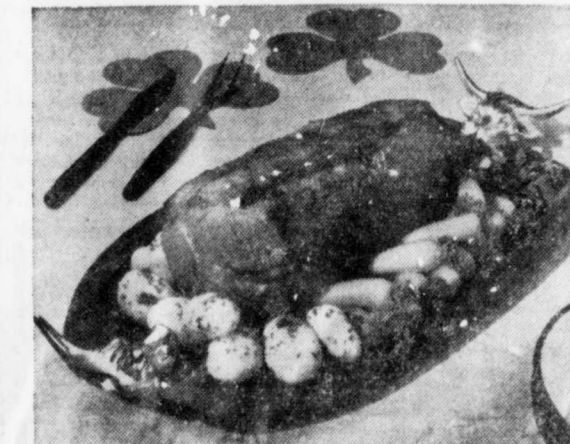

While their home is surrounded by many feet of snow, Mr. and Mrs. King are enjoying swimming and desert sun. The end of the week they plan to fly to Santa Barbara for a week before explaining home.

IRISHMEN and hungry boys will be delighted to partake of traditional corned beef on St. Patrick's Day. Add parsley to your platter and potatoes, and your menu will be "wearing the green."

'Erin's Beef' Go Bragh, Perfect St. Pat's Touch

Nothing could be more appropriate for St. Patrick's Day dinner than this corned beef recipe from the California Beef Council.

Sure and "Erin's Beef" turns trick for the holiday meal with leprechaun magic. Simmer a rump or brisket of California corned beef in a kettle with a spicy broth until the meat is tender. Then glaze it with a tangy sauce and bake it in the oven to a rich golden brown.

Served with parsleyed potatoes and carrots and garnished with parsley and other touches of green, "Erin's Beef" will be the delight of any Irishman—or anyone else who enjoys succulent and hearty corned beef.

Erin's Beef

5 to 5 lbs. corned beef, rump or brisket.
6 peppercorns.
2 tablespoons instant minced onion or 1/4 cup chopped raw onion
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder or 1 clove finely-chopped garlic
1/2 bay leaf

Glaze

1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons apple cider or fruit juice
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Place beef in a large kettle with peppercorns, onion, garlic and bay leaf. Cover with cold water and simmer slowly for 3 to 3 1/2 hours, until tender. Remove beef from broth; spread with Glaze and bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven 30 minutes, basting often. Slice thinly to serve.

Combine all ingredients for glaze. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Government and Bonds Will Be Theme for Talk

Donald W. Moulton will address the Los Angeles chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants at 6:30 p.m. March 27, at the Nikabob Restaurant in Los Angeles. His topic will be "United States Government and Municipal Bonds—Features of Interest to the Accountant."

Members of the society will serve as attendants at the booths on Accounting as a Career from 6:10 p.m. weekdays, and from 2 to 6 p.m. Sundays, during the Career Guidance Center, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Superintendent of Schools, at the Great Western Livestock Exhibit Hall from March 23 through April 1.

The society is sponsoring the booths jointly with the Los Angeles chapters of the American Accounting Association, Controllers Institute, Institute of Internal Auditors, and the National Accounting Association.

Dianne Riley President of USC Sorority

Dianne Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riley of Tachevah Drive, was elected president of Epsilon chapter of Alpha Chi Omega on the USC campus. The active journalism major will serve a year term, leading one of the largest sororities on campus.

A junior at USC on a journalism scholarship, Miss Riley is also active this year as society editor of the Daily Trojan newspaper; head women's counselor of Troy Camp; communications senators on the ASSC Senate; treasurer of Songfest; a member of Chimes, and Amazons, and publicity coordinator on the Associated Women Student's executive cabinet.

The new president will attend a three-day Panhellenic conference in LaJolla March 16-17-18. There she will discuss the purpose of fraternity life with the presidents of the other 12 sororities on campus.

Baby Nap

NEW YORK (UPI)—Going to bed isn't always a snap for tots, says the National Baby Care Council. Small children rarely know when they're tired.

Even when obviously exhausted, many do not recognize that sleep will make them feel better. To them, going to bed means being separated from grownups and fun. Parents who understand this, the Council said, are better able to help baby accept a snooze as a "must."

LENTEN SURPRISE

Here's a Lenten surprise for the little folks. Cut a few frankfurter rolls in half lengthwise. Scoop out the soft centers and toast the rolls lightly. Finely chop two shelled hard cooked eggs and mix with mayonnaise. Line the inside of the roll "boats" generously with egg mixture and in each place a whole Norway sardine. Lift a crisp inner leaf of romaine at one end of each boat for a sail. And away they go.

Nominations for New Officers Made at Xi Theta Eta Meeting

Nominations for 1962 officers and tea and imported candies, following a conducted tour of the Dills' new home.

Nominated were: president, Mrs. John Dill; vice president, Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. Jean Wallace; recording secretary, Mrs. Gene Read and Mrs. Robert Taylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Maidhoff and Mrs. Roy Hayes; treasurer, Mrs. Louise Crooks and Mrs. William Maidhoff.

Program for the evening was "Pictures and Mirrors," with Mmes. Maidhoff, Dill, Taylor, Hayes and Crooks participating. Mrs. Hayes, Xi Theta Eta president, reported on the Desert Cities Council Ball where the Chapter was represented by its Princess, Mrs. Taylor. Other business included a vote of thanks to Mrs. Joseph Mason for the luau she hosted for members and guests. The hostess served refreshments of burnt almond cake with coffee

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

The classical Freudian approach to alcoholics many years ago began with the notion that under the alcoholic facade lay latent homosexual tendencies. The newer attitude toward it is that while the person is not necessarily a latent homosexual he does have considerable conflict over his masculinity or her femininity. Drink seems to help resolve this problem for the moment by allowing the man to feel a little more manly and the woman a little more feminine.

Overt homosexuals have less need to drink for in a sense they have resolved their problems. They've made a decision and live by it. When adults have to get fairly well smashed before they can engage in or enjoy sexual relations it is a sign usually not only of sexual inhibitions but a conflict over one's sexual identification as well.

Case History

One case of a 32-year-old alcoholic male previously treated might serve to point up a few of many psychological mechanisms that produce a drinker. This man lost his father at an early age. His mother was plagued with imaginary illnesses that prevented her from taking on her motherly responsibilities. The family was quite poor and daily existence was a struggle. Here in a capsule is the frequent alcoholic family life.

Occasionally the father isn't deceased but was such a non-entity in the general scheme of things that he may as well have been. What it amounts to is that the boy grows up without a strong father figure to pattern himself after. He feels he should be manly but has only a woman for a model. A woman who tends to suppress the more aggressive, boisterous factors in a growing boy and who rears him with more feminine than masculine attitudes.

He develops enormous conflict over the later demands made of him to be a man while the whole life history has made him more a woman psychologically than a man. He finds it difficult to be assertive with other adults, is embarrassed about sex, and develops a soft passivity — an unconscious desire to be cared for by a strong figure who was never there to help him through life. He learned that he could depend on no one rally and came to depend on the one thing that could ease his pain — alcohol. It was dependable, in that it produced the same feeling of ease each time and wouldn't let him down as others had done.

His early reality was so wretched from day to day that there really was no great gain in facing reality other than to be reminded how miserable life was. Getting down to reality came to be associated with misery and hurt. His family life was generally disorganized and without plan — pretty much the way his life goes along now. There was no one who could point him in a direction and keep him at a task. No one to help him persevere to make it worth while to stay at something. He learned to take the easy way out.

His family life, being what it was, left him feeling different than other children and erected a barrier between himself and others that only alcohol could dissolve.

His need to depend on someone was in conflict with his need to be a man and act self-sufficient. He denied his dependence and leaned on drink instead; here he could both be a man (as measured by how much he could consume) and a boy (by acting silly and boisterous) with impunity. He could feel like both without ever having to go out into the world and prove it. He drank until there was no more discrepancy between what society made him feel he ought to be and what his life history actually made him with drink. He can put his arm around other men and be close to them without fear that such closeness will be misinterpreted.

'He's Stoned'

He can feel that he belongs when all his life his social status and family life made him feel an outsider. He can feel affluent in the lush surroundings of a bar to cover the miserable poverty that plagued him in his youth. He can be emotional — joyful and sorrowful and it's alright — "because he's stoned".

He can get angry and tell people off when throughout his life his mother disapproved of such uncouth behavior . . . and without her there was literally no one else — so he obeyed.

He goes through brief periods of abstinence of drink. This is to prove that he's not an alcoholic and can handle it. He reasons that he needs drink because he works hard and plays hard. Drinking, however, is the illusion of play because the alcoholic secretly hates it but knows no other way of giving himself pleasure. He hasn't built up enough other aspects of his life that can give him pleasure.

He's stopped the family outings that could be so much fun, he's

EASTER SEALS went into the mail at Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert, soon after this trio staged the official fund drive kickoff in the Rancho Mirage postoffice. Sidney F. Greenleaf, left, put the postmark on the first envelope full of Seals to be mailed from Rancho Mirage in the drive beginning today, as Easter Seal's 1962 princess Linda Bryant, nine, smiles encouragement. Carroll La Jaunie, right, Palm Desert postmaster, aided in the ceremony, and carried seals for dispatch from his resort town. Drive continues through Easter Sunday.

THOUSAND PALMS

It's a Great Overpass

THOUSAND PALMS — It was great to be able to drive over the new over-pass at Ramon and Highway 99 Monday. The barricades were removed about 2 p.m. and Uncle Sam's mail truck coming from Palm Springs right on schedule, was the first across.

Some residents of Thousand Palms made the trip over and back just by way of celebration.

It was said they might have been trying to out-do Harry Oliver, who hopes to be first at the dedication ceremony in April.

Thousand Palms residents who love to sing will be given an opportunity at the "Song Fest" at the Community Church, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. All who like to sing in a group are invited to come make music together.

Mrs. H. J. Arnett's brother, Edward Streeter, leaves for Arabia on April 15. He is chief of international surveyors. And is remembered here for his lovely voice. Streeter sang at the Property Owner's Association Christmas party. Mrs. Streeter will be leaving for Greece at the same time to be near her husband.

—Batrice Eaves

forgotten how to be considerate with his wife and he's so irritable and critical with his children that their school work has disintegrated. Instead of their grades being another source of satisfaction it heaps coals on the fires on his other failures — and so it goes. It's a merry-go-round and he can't find the strength to get off.

The alcoholic must realize that he needs another hand to help him. He must root out and understand thoroughly the conflicts that drive him to drink. It is possible to find others around to help him and with great force of will to stop for a time. But without some understanding of what lies below it will be a life-long struggle . . . occasionally won, more often lost. He will always be fighting a battle when there's no reason for the war in the first place.

Joshua Tree Among State Scenic Roads

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today approved designating 5,000 miles of scenic highways in California and asked the legislature's help in setting them apart.

Brown was following recommendations that appeared in a report from an Advisory Committee on Scenic Highways, which worked with a State Department committee to designate the highways in areas of particular beauty.

The report contained recommendations covering highway design, location and right of way acquisition policies, roadside facilities and control of development along "senic corridors."

The existing and planned highways are in every section of the state and include coastal, forest, mountain and desert areas. Prominent among them are the Redwood Empire area, coastal Highway 1, and sections of road in and near Yosemite, Death Valley, Lake Tahoe and Joshua Tree National Monument.

Brown urged the legislature to study the recommendations, commenting that "many of them will require legislative action if we are to protect existing 'senic corridors' and develop new ones."

The governor said that particular study was needed of the problems of "city and county participation in the plan to include local routes of interest and beauty where feasible."

'THE BEST OF ENEMIES'

Italian Comic in Film

By WILLIAM SUNDERLAND

ROME (UPI)—Americans will soon get a chance to see Alberto Sordi, the "funniest man in Italy," in his first English-language film. Sordi is a veteran of more than 100 films, many of which have been shown and reshown to the delight of Italian audiences. But most Americans have never even heard his name.

The 40-year-old comic, who made his first film at 16, will get his chance in the United States next April when "The Best of Enemies" goes before the American public.

In this wartime comedy, Sordi co-stars with David Niven. "The Best of Enemies," Sordi's first English-language film, already has scored a laugh-filled success in London.

Off the screen, Sordi, a bachelor, is a serious, intelligent and articulate man.

Comic's Problems Mount

"The problems of trying to appeal to an international audience as a comic are tremendous," he said in an interview. "But I think 'The Best of Enemies' has shown that I can put myself across in English."

As a comic, Sordi depends more on an expression of the face, a word or a phrase than on slapstick. He specializes in tragicomic situations.

"In every life there is a combination of both tragedy and comedy, and many times they come together," Sordi said. "These are the parts I want to play. No situation comedies, or hanging from a 30-story ledge by my fingertips. I want to act what is true to life."

An example of such a part is his role in "Everybody Home," a story of the confused and bitter days near the end of World War II when both the Germans and the Americans were shooting at the Italians. Sordi plays a bewildered officer who is caught between the two forces and has no idea of what to do.

Sordi said: "I learned to be a comic the best way—by working with and learning from other comics. When I was 13 I won a contest to dub in the Italian voice for Oliver Hardy in the Laurel and Hardy films."

Theatrical Plans Made By Palm Desert Players

The last meeting of the Palm Desert Players was marked by a lively discussion of plans for forthcoming events.

In addition to the three-act comedy now in rehearsal, which Director Clay Stearns expects to have ready by the middle of next month, the delightful Sunday morning chuck wagon breakfasts are to be resumed early in April. Particulars will be released later.

Urgent requests for one-act plays or other entertainment features to fill out programs in nearby communities, reveal a sharp need for activity in this direction and an increased enrollment of potential thespians. The Players would welcome participation.

As shown by the treasurer's report, their production "Laura" grossed slightly over nine hundred dollars, enabling the Players to make payments on their property and improvements, thus distributing a substantial sum of money in the area.

Because of the illness of Maurice Solt, the workshop session was taken over by Alzora Carter, John Signes, Raoul Marquis, Gene Carter, Joan Humphrey, and Maquela, who read Act 2, Scene 2 of Rachel Crothers' "Let Us Be Gay."

THE PERSONAL TOUCH makes it difficult for Sherri Nicholson to ignore the Latin rhythms at Casa Camargo, where Sherri is lured almost nightly by the Trio Los Cometas.

DORIS DAY and Rock Hudson star in "Lover Come Back," showing at the Plaza Theater, March 21-27.

SAYS TWISTMASTER

Twist Will Thrive

How long will the Twist last? A prediction that it will continue to thrive at least until 1970 has been made by former motion picture choreographer Roy Randolph. According to Randolph, who is Twistmaster at Palm Springs' Rim Rocks Restaurant and prominent realtor in the desert resort city, there are two dominant reasons why the Twist's life span is destined to be prolonged.

1. We are twisting with such abandon because the national dance craze is geared to the Space Age beat. It has surpassed every dance fad that has previously swept the country because we are living in a fast world—a world of spacemen who travel 17,500 miles an hour and cross the Atlantic ocean in 25 minutes on orbital flights. A world in which space ships are headed for the moon.

2. The Twist has a host of Terpsichorean kink. There are so many variations of the Twist it's hard to keep up with them. Randolph himself has introduced a couple of new "twists." One is the "Mexican Twist," which is performed while holding maracas in both hands. The steps have a South-of-the-border flair.

The other is the "Irishman Twist," which has hit Palm Springs just in time for St. Patrick's Day. It features Irish jig-like steps.

What's significant about these Twist variations is there's no chance for the monotony of sameness to set in. It's Randolph's contention that doing the same steps over and over again is what triggers dance fads into oblivion.

TV Awards Have Gone To the Dogs

Television awards have gone to the dogs.

At least, that's what the nation's newspaper editors have decided each year as they cast their votes for The American Human Association's PATSY Awards, the animal world's counterpart of the TV "Emmy" for humans.

Since the "best performance" honors began five years ago, dogs have won paws down over all other nominees. Veteran performer Lassie has been a two-time "Performing Animal Television Star of the Year," while other canine champs have been "The Thin Man" series' Asta and "My Three Sons" family dog Tramp.

Both Lassie and Tramp are nominees for this year's awards but they face strong competition from two horses, King (of "National Velvet") and Mister Ed, talking horse in the series of the same name. For the first time, three animal performers are entered as a team, the Marquis Chimps of "The Hathaways."

Balloting closed yesterday and winners will be announced April 14, during AHA presentation ceremonies at Hollywood's famed RKO Pantages Theatre.

JUNE AND BAYARD McIntosh were "Twisttempted" by the Royal Room Combo's music-to-move-by at a Rim Rocks' Twist session, headed by Roy Randolph.

Computer To Oust Clerks

By LEROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI)—The electronic computer soon may have a new social function in New York—dispossessing tenants who don't pay their rent.

It may also displace a considerable number of clerical workers in New York's real estate offices.

President William T. Goldfarb of Dateline Computer Processing Associates, Ltd., will start a new computer accounting and control service for large realty firms—those with 500 tenants or more—in April.

Goldfarb said he would start with six clients and expected to have clients with a minimum of 15,000 tenants by July and 100,000 within a year. It is the first electronic data processing operation designed for the real estate field, he said. Previously Goldfarb had developed data processing systems tailored for the airline business and automated processes for savings banks.

The records of each management firm and its buildings will be stored on magnetic tape. Over all information about buildings also will be stored.

Thus, the computer will more-or-less automatically take care of rent collection, rent raises, lease renewals, re-decorating—and even turn out eviction notices when tenants become sufficiently in arrears on the rent.

On the building, the computer will figure tax bills, mortgage payments, amortization, depreciation, insurance premiums, utility and fuel costs, will credit or charge these items to the right accounts and render monthly or quarterly statements for the auditors. It will also operate machines that make out the monthly rent bills and even dunning letters to be mailed in the middle of the month to tardy tenants.

PARTY TALK is taking up the time these days of Diann Snedeker and David Sanders. They are co-chairmen of the Clover Twist teen-age party sponsored by the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Saturday at the Town Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door for the party which is scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m.

Cathedral City Lions Club will be host to ten Lions Clubs of the upper Desert Region of District 4L4 in regional finals of the 25th annual Student Speakers Contest sponsored by District Four of Lions International.

The run-off will be held at Laurie's Steak Ranch Thursday, March 22, at 7:15 p.m. The winner will compete with five other winners in District 4L4 May 1 at 7 p.m. at the Elks Hall in Indio.

Finals in District Four, which includes 712 clubs in California and Nevada, will be held at the District 4L4 convention in San Diego May 19. More than 2100 high school students in the two states are participating in the contest and the winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship in any accredited junior college, college or university. The three second place winners will receive $500 scholarships.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Horror in Hamburg Described

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Just published is a dreadful book entitled "The Night Hamburg Died."

Dreadful is the word. This book excites dread and horror. It is the story of the death of Hamburg in a firestorm induced by the day and night bombing of Germany's second city, population about 2,000,000. This was in 1943.

This book should be accepted as part of the national debate in the United States about how to obtain civil defense against thermonuclear war.

The shocker in this book is the argument that the government and people of the United States have not yet identified the killer against which they would raise civil defenses. The killer is fire but, more properly, it is heat, perhaps few would have to die from fallout.

Hamburg was rated the best prepared of all German cities to withstand fire bombing. When the bombing came, however, it was on a scale unprecedented. The city died. There was not merely fire, there was firestorm. Flames shot up 15,000 feet above the doomed city; the smoke plume rose 40,000 feet.

Red-Hot Hurricane
The roaring flames consumed the atmosphere at the ground level and sucked in from suburbs and outlying farm lands more air with a horizontal movement greater than hurricane force, estimated at 150 miles an hour.

Shelters that were almost proof against fire from without were almost defenseless against the brutal heat pervading the city. In the streets living, moving human bodies burst suddenly into puffs of flame. In the shelters death was more gentle, induced by heat and suffocation for lack of oxygen. There are pictures in this book. Beneath one of them is this cut line:

"These victims—spared the direct effect of flames—died early in the firestorm from the combined effects of heat, carbon monoxide and suffocation. In many shelters the heat became so great that the corpses, as well as glass and metal, melted into blobs."

EASY DOES IT

NICE, Paris (UPI)—French housewives are getting a practical lesson in electronics at a new discount supermarket in Nice.

At the store—a superdis—every time the shopper sees something she wants, she just picks up an IBM punched card near the merchandise. At the check-out counter she gives the cards to the clerk and a machine chews on them, spitting out invoices. One copy goes to the shipping department. The shopper doesn't have to carry anything heavier than the cards!

It is estimated that the ground level temperature in Hamburg during the firestorm reached 1,400 degrees Fahrenheit. It is no mere estimate that successful thermonuclear attack would exceed in all respects the effects of the British and American day-and-night bombing. This Hamburg story raises a new question with respect to civil defense.

More accurately, the question is less new than ignored in the discussion of fallout and how to defend against it. The Hamburg story strongly suggests that the lucky ones would be those in shelters who survived the flameless heat to take their chances some days later with fallout. Fallout shelters could become crematories.

"The Night Hamburg Died" is a paperback, written by Martin Caidin, published by Ballantine Books, New York. It looks to me like required reading. I saw Hamburg before (1941) and after (1945) the British and American bombers killed the city.

Hamburg's bomb shelters in 1941 were numerous, substantial and impressive, some spaciouly carved into solid rock. Hamburg's remains in 1945 were ghastly. Author Caidin has written a horror book but probably without exaggeration.

Worker in 'Nice Catch'

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A 38-year-old ironworker was not on the baseball diamond but he still made a catch that saved the life of Alfred E. Roy, 57, Chula Vista.

Roy plunged head first from a scaffold three floors above the ground on a downtown skyscraper project.

Luther L. Sykes, San Diego, saw his co-worker falling and dashed 10 feet "to try to catch him."

Roy landed on the braced right leg of Sykes breaking his fall.

He was taken to Bayview Hospital with a skull fracture, internal injuries and a possible broken back. His condition was listed as critical.

Sykes suffered a double fracture of the leg.

"Sykes definitely saved Roy's life," a hospital spokesman said.

The Ziolkowski family attends this one-room school. Teacher is paid by the sculptor.

Monument to Sioux Indian, Chief Crazy Horse, dominates model of proposed Indian university as envisioned by Sculptor Korczak Ziolkowski in the Black Hills of North Dakota. Finished statue will tower 563 feet.

It's Crazy, Man, Crazy

Bulldozer is used by the sculptor to remove rock that he has blasted from the mountain face. Lucky tourists are permitted to set off the charges.

A MAN WHO seems to thrive on monumental jobs, Korczak Ziolkowski, 53, is singlehandedly carving a statue of the famous Indian, Chief Crazy Horse, from a mountain in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Using air hammer, dynamite and bulldozer, Ziolkowski expects to complete his project by 1978. Tourist donations have financed the work that the sculptor hopes, on completion, will become the nucleus of an Indian university on that site.

Monique, the youngest, loves to explore flowing beard her father wears.

Model of Chief Crazy Horse monument in creating the work. When completed the monument will be the world's largest.

Relaxing with a good book and a cigar in his study, the buckskin-clad sculptor sits before painting of himself manning an air hammer in 1948.

While the baby of the family is napping, Mrs. Ziolkowski and the eight older children gather to help their father celebrate his 53rd birthday. The Boston-born sculptor conceived the idea for Crazy Horse while he was working on Mt. Rushmore.

Two Golfers Tie for Seniors Golf Title

R. H. Guelich, of Eldorado Country Club, who fired a 69 on the O'Donnell Golf Club course Wednesday shared the seniors title of the 27th Annual Palm Spring Invitational tournament with Ross McDade, of El Centro, who toured the course Thursday in 69 strokes.

Guelich was playing in the 55-59 age group and McDade played in the 60-64 age bracket.

Three scores of 71—one over par—were carded in Thursday's play as were three 72s over the sporty O'Donnell course. Those shooting scores of 71 were, W. R. Potter of Thunderbird Country Club, George Lance of Riviera and Frank Bender of LaJolla.

One of the highlights during Thursday's play at O'Donnell was the fine round of golf turned in by Lee Davis, Sr. of the Los Angeles Country Club as he toured the course in 78 blows. The senior Davis played in the 75 and or older age group.

Results of Thursday's play in the 27th Annual Palm Springs Invitational Golf Tournament being staged at the O'Donnell GC are as follows:

GROUP I 55-59
Guelich, Eldorado	69
Lance, Riviera	71
Potter, Thunderbird	71
GROUP II 60-64

Tribe Beats Beaumont HS Nine, 4-2

The Palm Springs high school Indians baseball team defeated the Beaumont high school nine at the Polo Grounds, 4-2, in a non-league thriller before nearly 500 baseball fans.

Brothers Dave and Eric Teitelbaum teamed up to lead the Indians to a win as they accounted for three of the four runs after trailing early in the game.

David, who was on the mound hurled a three hitter and Eric, his battery mate, accounted for three smashing doubles. Carlos Reyes and Gilbert Flores supplied timely singles to aid in the winning cause.

Pitching duties for the Beaumont nine was shared by brothers David and Robert Valdivia.

Little League Tryouts for 10-Year-Olds

Little League baseball tryouts will be staged Saturday morning at 9 a.m. at the Little League fields for all boys 10 years of age. The Recreational and Special events department announced that it would not be necessary for the youngsters to bring birth certificates.

If any boy played in Little League, Minor League, or Pee Wee's, it is not required for them to tryout Saturday. Howard Haddock, director of the recreation department stated.

Big Crowd At Annual Golf Dinner

The Palm Springs Invitational Golf Tournament—a links tourney that has grown almost as the Village has grown—paid homage to its Class A and Senior winners with a packed-house dinner in the Chi Chi Starlite Room last night, setting the stage for the three-day finals to follow.

The tournament, held on the spacious greens of the O'Donnell Golf Club, continues through Sunday with an unusual gallery fee providing revenue for the Palm Springs Boys Club.

Last night's event paid homage to venerable J. E. "Dad" French, one of the staunchest of the Village's golf boosters.

Charles Irwin, a show business great over three generations, came to the Starlite room stage and delivered a poetic eulogy to French which brought the 1,200 plus attendees to their feet in homage.

Another personal presentation, with B. F. Shearer officiating, saw Stan Weller receive a set of Spaulding irons for his 142 low gross in Class A play. Weller tied with John Wood at the 142 mark. Wood received a set of MacGregor woods for his impressive score.

ALSO RAN

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Ted Kroll, who hasn't won a golf tournament since 1937, averaged $1,110 in "also ran" prize money in the 20 championships he played in during 1961.

Bantam Boys High Series At PS Bowl

The Santa Fe Federal team bowled high handicap series of 1,525 with games of 751 and 774 in the Bantam Boys Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan League at the PS Bowl.

Trophy winners were: Alan Ames, high game of 148; high game handicap, Don Ross, 180; high scratch series, Bruce Blauvelt, 252 and high handicap series, Tom Johnson, 316.

Bantam boys rolling over 100 in single games were: Ames, 148; Blauvelt, Ross, 135; Craig Fosvedt, 134; Kraston Fosvedt, 134; Mike Hurley, 124; Johnson, 121; Randy Svoboda, 119; Bob Malette, 118; Steve Laker, 116; Gary Fox, 113; Ricky Buresh, 112; Mike Hunt, 109 and Steve Diloreto, 105.

Mrs. Winston Wins Bermuda Dunes Meet

Mrs. H. I. Winston was crowned champion of the second annual Women's Championship Golf Tournament at Bermuda Dunes Country Club Thursday after defeating Mrs. Robert Immel in the finals.

The four-day match play event was sponsored by the Bermuda Dunes Women's Golf Auxiliary and a field of nearly fifty women golfers participated in the three flights.

Mrs. Edward Coffey was the winner of the first flight, as she defeated Mrs. Bertram Leffercott, 1-up, in the final 18 holes played Thursday.

Winner of the third flight was Mrs. Carl Schooss who downed her opponent Mrs. James Mapes, 4-3, in the final round of play.

Following the final matches played Thursday morning, presentation of awards was made at a luncheon at Bermuda Dunes' "Top o' the Dune" clubhouse.

Ernie Dunlevie, who with Ray Ryan is owner of Bermuda Dunes Country Club, donated a perpetual trophy for the annual golf tournament.

SUCCESS-FRUSTRATION

Angels Lose, 7-3

MESA, Ariz. — Success shaded by sieges of frustration, made it seem just like 1961 today for Los Angeles Angel manager Bill Rigney and his crew now on their first road trip of the spring.

The success was in one big dose, three straight wins at the Polo Grounds at the start of the exhibition season. The mad frustration came in an equal portion, with the third consecutive loss taking the form of a 7-3 defeat to the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

Today, the Angels moved to Tucson to play the Cleveland Indians. Ken McBride, the last Angel to achieve a major pitching success, and Dean Chance were to share the Los Angeles pitching responsibility.

In Thursday's game at Mesa, the most frustrating development was failure to cash in on 13 hits. The Angels had 11 men stranded in the exhibition contest.

Angel pitching also was somewhat shaky, although hardly beyond repair at this early stage of the spring training season. Starter Ted Bowsfield gave up four runs, and seven hits. His relief, George Witt, was tagged for three runs on three hits—plus four walks.

One of the most damaging blows was a home run by rookie Ken Hubbs, former Colton, Calif., high school star, who hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning off Witt. Bob Will also hit a homer for the winners.

Glenn Hobbie shut out the Angels for the first four innings, when Los Angeles found itself trailing, 4-0. Marlan Coughtry, Albie Pearson and Lee Thomas singled and Hobbie walked in Coughtry in the fifth. A sacrifice fly brought in another Angel run. Three Angels, Pearson, Coughtry and Thomas, each contributed two hits but only Tom Burgess got an extra-base knock for the losers—a double.

Keglers Korner

High individual game of 213 was rolled by Bev Midstake in the Palmettes league at the PS Bowl and she followed with a hi-series of 573.

The Bali Hai team took four from Braselli's, P.S. Mayflower defeated the Rainbow Room, 3-1, and Chuck Welling outscored Hoams 6-0, 3-1.

In the His and Hers league, hi-team game was rolled by the P.S. Mirror and Glass team as they collected 771 pins. Garcia Ins. Agency had hi-team series with 2,132 points.

Bill McMahon rolled hi-game and hi-series with scores of 232 and 553 respectively as Jean Aman was top lady kegler when she rolled a 160 game and finished with a 464 series.

Adams Carpet Service won three from Krings Chevron to tie for first place with P.S. Mirror and Glass who dropped three games. Freeman and Foster took three games from Team 6.

One Crime Up, Some Is Down

House burglaries increased in February over the total for the same period a year ago — but business burglaries showed decreases, A. G. Kettmann, Palm Springs police chief, reported.

Other February increases included larceny over $50, felony bad checks, vagrancy, and juvenile arrests and contacts, and service of warrants.

Despite the monthly increase, the total for January and February showed reductions in most of the categories. Reductions were also shown in vehicular accidents, gambling arrests, malicious mischief reports, the value of stolen property, and prisoners booked.

House burglaries last month totaled 13, up five from a year ago, but business burglaries were down six, to a total of five. The burglary total for the first two months showed a reduction of 40 over the 1961 figure, or 105 compared to 145.

Felony bad checks rose from 10 in 1961, to 16 in February this year, but forgery counts showed a plummet from 44 a year ago to 2 last month. Juvenile contacts and arrests were 23 each last month, compared to 14 contacts and 13 arrests for the same period a year ago.

Motor vehicle collisions dropped from 40 to 32, marking one of the first decreases in recent months. Injury accidents, however, increased from 14 to 15 for February.

The value of property stolen showed a hefty $44,000 drop from $66,000 a year ago to $22,000 in February.

Teachers to Hear Mosk

Business teachers from Palm Springs and other Riverside County schools, will attend the annual spring conference of the California Business Education Association at the Mission Inn in Riverside tonight, Ralph Galloway of Twin Pines high school, CBEA district director, said today.

Stanley Mosk, state attorney general, will be the speaker.

Astronaut Slayton Is Grounded Over Heart

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Astronaut Donald K. Slayton, scheduled to have been the second American in orbit, has been grounded by an old heart ailment and M. Scott Carpenter has been assigned to take his place.

Slayton, a 38-year-old Air Force major, was disappointed. Carpenter, 37, who backed up John Glenn on his orbital flight Feb. 20, refused to comment.

Slayton was to have duplicated Glenn's three-orbit flight in May or June. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said Thursday that Slayton had an "erratic heart rate" and would not be allowed to attempt the flight.

Discovered In 1959
NASA did not say why a heart condition it first noted in November, 1959, seven months after Slayton became one of the seven Mercury astronauts, should now disqualify him.

It would only say that the condition had been studied continuously and that an Air Force medical board, with confirmation from a civilian board, had decided that Slayton "should not attempt the MA7 mission." The next orbital flight will be known as Mercury-Atlas 7 (MA7).

"To realize that I will not be piloting MA7 — well, I'm very disappointed to say the least," NASA quoted Slayton.

Slayton's parents, contacted at their farm near Leon, Wis., said they were "relieved" but felt "very sorry" for their son.

Mrs. Florence Carpenter of Boulder, Colo., mother of the new prime astronaut for the second orbital shot, said "I'm not going to worry about it until the day he makes the flight."

Dr. M. Scott Carpenter, his father, in Palmer Lake, Colo., said he was not worried. "Why should I be?" he asked.

C.V. Volunteer Firemen Bring Les Brown Band In Benefit Performance

Volunteer firemen who aren't answering emergency calls Saturday evening, will join contributing friends in the second annual Coachella Valley Firemen's Association ball in the Riviera Hotel.

The benefit fete, to the music of Les Brown's famed orchestra, will start at 9 p.m., continue to 1 a.m. Proceeds from the dance fest will be used to purchase additional emergency equipment, used by the 150 volunteers in 13 community units.

Buy Radios
The net proceeds from the first volunteer's ball last year were used to purchase 33 radio sets for key volunteer personnel. The radios provide a valley-wide net of instantaneous communications between volunteers and the Division of Forestry stations they aid. The combination of strategically located stations and the on-the-spot trained volunteers has resulted in fire insurance cost reductions of 40 to 50 per cent throughout the areas served. Karl Jaeger, chief of the forestry fire station net in Indio announced.

The reductions apply to areas with fire plugs within five miles of a station. Sharp premium reductions are also cited in areas served only by pump trucks and the trained personnel.

Impressive Savings
"The statistics of savings made by volunteer firemen working with the forestry units is impressive—but the statistics which can't be computed are perhaps more important," Jaeger and Richard Hedglin, Thousand Palms volunteer, emphasized. They explained that volunteers had rolled to 105 rescuator calls last year — using equipment the firemen themselves had purchased.

"There's no possible way to compute the value of life-saving equipment in the right place at the right time, with trained operators," Hedglin said.

Many Hours

The 150 volunteer firemen averaged more than 30 hours unpaid training time each last year. In addition to this total of 4,500 donated manhours of training, the firemen spent 2,449 actual firefighting hours, responding to 368 fires. The volunteers also responded to 101 extra service calls, ranging from smoke checks to cleanup of flammable fluids at emergency sites.

"Our volunteers fought 368 fires with estimated losses of $303,901 last year — but they also had estimated savings of $2,449,662," Hedglin said.

Small Cost

The county fire protection, administered by the state Division of Forestry, costs $1 per $1,000 assessed valuation — or 10-cents on the $100. Service provided, in conjunction with volunteers, save enough in insurance premium costs — compared to areas without similar trained personnel — to pay all costs and expand the entire program in one year.

Tickets for the night with Brown's famed orchestra are available at all fire stations in the valley, volunteer personnel, the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, and at the Riviera Hotel Saturday. Contribution per ticket is $2.50 per person.

Swallows Coming to Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (UPI)—The usual scout birds began arriving today at Mission San Juan Capistrano, but the thousands of swallows that traditionally return each spring are not due until Monday—St. Joseph's Day.

If the myriad of tiny birds descend upon the Mission on March 19 — and all predictions indicate they will—it would be the 183rd recorded year the swallows have returned to Capistrano.

Although the story has been blasted by modern science, legend has it the birds were given shelter here years and years ago by a sympathetic mission padre after an irate innkeeper destroyed their nests. And they return annually on March 19th.

As in tradition, this quiet mission town some 50 miles south of Los Angeles will give the swallows a warm welcome.

Mission bells will begin pealing as dawn breaks over the rolling hills and masses will be held throughout the day for persons of the Roman Catholic faith.

BREAKFAST HELPS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists at the University of Iowa College of Medicine recently conducted a series of tests with office and factor workers. They wanted to answer this question: "Is the coffee break an efficient substitute for an adequate breakfast?"

Citing the study, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said subjects who ate an adequate breakfast were more productive during the late morning hours, were quicker in their reactions and did not tire as easily as those who relied on coffee alone.

'Lavender Hill Mob' Not Fictitious in California, Policemen Now Suspect

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police today held 11 members of a "Lavender Hill Mob" crime ring suspected of robbing 12 Southern California finance companies.

Two former policemen, a Korean War hero and a college graduate were among the suspects arrested Thursday who patterned their activities after a gang in a British movie starring Alec Guinness.

A police spokesman said the gang has been operating about five months.

The ring, which called itself the Lavender Hill Corp., was made up primarily of bar and tavern owners.

Among those in custody on charges of conspiracy to commit robbery were Darrell Tipton Riddle, 26, owner of a Ventura bar and a former member of the Ventura police force, and James Kevin Lewis, 29, Santa Paula, a former San Jose, Calif. policeman who worked as a fireman at the Point Mugu Naval Missile Base. Police said Michael Lee Durbin, 32, once recommended for a Silver Star for his service in the army in Korea, was the ringleader of the gang.

Others in custody included, Paul Spencer Boyd, 23, Ventura, Nancy Sue Allman, 25, a waitress; Larry Anton Rasmussen, 31; Wayne

BLUE COLLAR TURNS SNAZZY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's hard to tell the difference between the man with a golf date and the man on his way to the factory these days. Work shirts and bibbed overalls are going the way of the buggy whip. Sleek slacks and snazzy sports shirts are taking their place.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, which keeps tabs on such things, also reports that less than a third as many bib overalls are being produced as in 1947. And work pants — styled more like sports slacks — are replacing the dungarees and overalls.

Palm Desert Realtors Plan Education, Sales Conclave

Thoral Lake and other officers of the Palm Desert Board of Realtors met with Charles H. Brown of Pasadena, president of the 37,000 member California Real Estate Association and H. Jackson Pontius of Arcadia, executive Vice-President at the Biltmore Hotel in Palm Springs to discuss and plan the association's 1962 activities in this area.

Lake announced that the Palm Desert Board of Realtors and the California Real Estate Association will co-sponsor an educational and sales conference for local Realtors and salesmen at the Coachella Valley at San Bernardino on March 30.

"This is Your Life . . . R.E. Salesman" is the theme of the conference according to Lake. He said that because there is a continuous need to revitalize the selling habits of Realtors and salesmen this program will review the proven techniques of selling. He also noted that today more education and training is required of Realtors and real estate salesmen to meet the needs of the community.

Principal speaker at the conference will be Millard Bennett of New York City, national lecturer and publisher, it was announced. Subjects to be presented on the conference program include: "What Makes a Successful Salesman," "Financing—Key to Getting the Listing," "Analyzing the Market for the Owner in Setting the Correct Listing Price," "Showing the Property to Best Advantage" and "Getting the Order" and "Service After the Sale."

Brown stated at the meeting that this is the 15th year the California Real Estate Association has conducted these educational and sales conferences.

"The conferences have done much to improve the services of Realtors to the public," said

Model Home Now Ready For Exhibit

A luxurious development featuring a dramatic array of 30 elegant homes adjacent to Tamarisk Country Club called Green Acres is now ready for inspection.

Three models are featured—the Mediterranean, the Pacific, and the Caribbean, smartly functional but fashionably fluid in design. Cool desert colors have been utilized to the fullest extent in the interior decor.

Each home features walls-of-glass sliding doors, Italian marble bathrooms, indoor planters, all walnut kitchens, sunken living rooms, decorator hardware and fixtures, exotic stone fireplaces, and galleria dining area.

Lots Have Trees

There are large fruit bearing trees on every lot, underground utilities, fenced yards, and wide paved streets with curbs and gutters in.

The Mediterranean model, a distinctive three-bedroom, two-bath home employs long horizontal lines plus a striking use of materials to achieve that uncluttered, airy feeling.

A circular hearth and spacious sunken living room add quiet elegance to the interior which provides a separate wing for sleeping quarters. A memorable home is the result, with a European influence that in spirit, in line and in color reflects a haven of calm simplicity.

The dividing line between indoors and outdoors vanishes in the Pacific model, where the exciting, expansive mountain view is always evident.

Blends With Setting

The indoor scheme has been planned carefully to blend with the natural setting of Green Acres superb location. Floor-to-ceiling walls of glass and clerestory windows make the Pacific a generous home . . . generous in its use of space for the whole family, yet with maximum attention stressed on ultimate privacy.

Electric Power Firm Reports Income Gains

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—California Electric Power Company has announced a net income for 1961 of $5,505,490, or $1.13 per share on the 3,800,000 common shares outstanding.

The company's annual report said kilowatt hour sales of electricity were up 10.6 per cent and electric revenue was up 7.1 per cent of the 1960 level.

Present business conditions in the company's area indicate the 1962 sales will show a greater rate of growth than 1961, a company spokesman said.

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Plant Pests Scarce in Desert

Thanks to the enforcement of quarantine regulations this corner of Coachella Valley is comparatively free of plant life pests.

Most pest eliminators of a decade ago contained pyrethrum and rotenone. However, those sprays and dusting powders had one marked fault; they lost their killing power too quickly. Many multipurpose garden sprays and dusts of today contain Lindane, a much longer lasting insect destroyer. These preparations have the added virtue of being less malodorous. Chemists assert it is much safer than precious sprays, but advise against its use on food and ready-to-harvest crops because of the possibility of long-term poisoning.

Those who have palo verde or parkinsonia trees in their garden in Cathedral City might note a deterioration in their trees evidently caused by leakage of the sap through holes made by borers. The removal and burning of affected parts is the surest way of getting control according to a farm adviser.

Planting Peak Near

However, it may not be desirable for you to cut the trees too severely. A saturated solution of paradichlorobenzene, crystals in raw liquid oil may do the job. About a pound of p.d.b. crystals may be dissolved in a quart of raw liquid oil which has been brought to a warm temperature. Paint this mixture on the bark where the borers have been active. It would be wise to repeat the treatment.

After the middle of March and the lengthening of the days planting should soon reach its peak in this oasis. Few localities reward the gardener with such rapid and heart-warming results as does this desert area. This is especially true of sub-tropical plants such as Hibiscus and Bougainvillea.

Excessive irrigation and a cold night is not beneficial to such plants. Mixing a good commercial fertilizer in the soil around mature plantings will counteract the effect of cool weather by providing artificial heat. Never allow fertilizer to come in contact with the roots of young, freshly planted shrubs, most fertilizers generate sufficient heat to burn tender roots.

Soon the Zinnias will be plant-ted, then we can go ahead with anything else your heart and choice might desire. Local nurseries are displaying too many varieties of petunias to make your choice an easy one. Elk's pride, Black Prince, a host of fancy names designate an array of single, double, and ruffled petunias. Take your choice, you'll probably forget their names but your memory will always carry the vision of their beauty. Pansies, violas, jonquils, cyclamen, or whatever your choice may be will all afford you ecstatic pleasure and reward you amply for the small outlay of expense and labor.

Movement of citrus and many other trees is carefully regulated for the benefit of all of us, so do not bring in trees from outside the valley without consulting the authorities.

Should you decide to plant individual citrus trees purchase young trees in the immediate locality. —T.G.M.

Hardwood Floors Are Gaining in Popularity

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hardwood floors are showing again, because of a trend to area rugs.

Spurring the trend is the open plan of many contemporary homes, leading to the use of area rugs, to divide otherwise one-room living areas into dining nooks, music corners, etc.

With so much floor bared, interest runs high in high-styled hardwood flooring. Hardwood floor manufacturers report that plank style flooring, in particular, is fast gaining in popularity. The wide planks apparently strike an appropriate note of informality in both colonial and contemporary ranch homes.

Available in widths from three to nine inches, the hardwood planks generally are laid in random widths. Thus, a typical plank floor may be composed of pieces three, five and seven inches wide, placed alternately.

Superceding the conventional parquet hardwood is unit-block flooring. More formal in character than either strip or plank flooring, it is produced in squares and rectangles of several dimensions. A popular choice is the 9 x 9 inch square. The blocks can be laid in countless eye-catching patterns.

Most extensively used is oak. Hard maple, beech, birch and pecan are becoming increasingly popular, however. More costly, but striking when used for flooring, are walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

All are durable enough for flooring and resist wear and denting.

CHILDISH TIP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Install a cabinet with mirror for the children when doing over the bathroom, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service suggests.

Place the cabinet about three feet from the floor. This will give the children a place to keep their own toilet articles. Later, when the youngsters are grown, you can use the cabinet to store shoe polish, brushes and other supplies.

per, and Col. William Fangerow (U.S.A. Ret.). Missing is Henry Myers, former casting director for 19 years at Twentieth Century Fox Studios.

Executive Council for Palm City Homes Voted

PALM CITY — William E. Tepper has been named chairman of the five-man executive council elected by the Palm City Home Owners Association, announced Nels G. Severin, developer of the desert retirement community now being built near Palm Springs.

Tepper, who recently moved into his desert home from Lakeport, Calif., is co-publisher of the San Clemente Sun, a weekly newspaper. A member of the Economic Analysis Committee of Orange County, he has been active in civic and business organizations.

Other members of the council, also residents, are Thomas J. Collinson, of Los Angeles, G.E. "Jack" Stewart, of Van Nuys, Calif., Col. William E. Fangerow, of North Hollywood, and Henry Myers, of Inglewood.

The Home Owners Association is elected from the Palm City citizens, giving the residents a voice in the management and operation of the retirement community. It meets weekly in the assembly hall.

Palm City, now selling in the second unit, will be a self-contained community of 1,800 homes and "own-your-own" apartments when completed next year.

All homes and apartments are situated around two golf courses, with many offering views of the green fairways and surrounding mountains.

The first 500 residents are now enjoying the recreational and social activities offered free to residents, Severin said. Included are swimming, shuffleboard, cards, chess, barber shop singing, square dancing, community singing, barbecues and potluck dinners. Focal point of these activities is the large air-conditioned recreation center located near the entrance to the city.

A medical-professional building was recently opened at Palm City and first stores in the neighborhood shopping center are expected to open for business next month. Seven professionally decorated model homes, displaying two and three bedroom plans with one and two bathrooms, are open daily until dark for public inspection. Also on display are furnished model apartments.

Kitchens have built-in electric range and oven, ample natural finish wood cabinets, garbage disposer and breakfast bar.

One member of each family must be 50 or over to reside permanently in Palm City, the nation's most honored retirement project with nine awards.

Located only a mile from famous Bermuda Dunes, where many entertainment celebrities have homes, Palm City is only 2½ hours from Los Angeles and San Diego and 20 minutes from Palm Springs off Highway 111. Travel to Washington Street and follow directional signs.

Science Has the Solution for The Householder Bugged by Bugs

CULVER CITY (UPI)—Science has finally come up with the solution for persons bugged by bugs. Insecticides are old hat now in this modern space age and scientists at Hughes Aircraft Company suggest that bugs be blasted into space for about thirty days. The pressure in the vacuum of space kills them more effectively than the old fashioned insect spray. Hughes researchers built a vacuum train — a glass complex which simulates outer space—and discovered that vacuum alone will kill bacteria and fungi. Previously scientists believed bacteria was carried to earth from other planets by unprotected spores. But the Hughes experiments point to the fact that nothing could survive the vast distances and the ultra-high vacuum encountered.

Closing Up Is a Big Job

What happens to a Palm Springs Resort hotel when it closes for the summer months? Does the management pull the blinds, lock the doors and heave sighs of relief, anticipating four months' of leisure? Such is not the case with the Oasis Hotel in Palm Springs. True, most of the employees depart in May; some to take positions elsewhere for the summer months—others to make trips to their favorite vacation spots—and still others to laze through the hot months, waiting for the hotel to reopen in October.

This is actually what took place this last summer with the Oasis Hotel: First, every room was stripped, blankets and spreads sent to the cleaner by Dewey W. Metzdorf Sr., general manager and vice-president of Western Hotels, Inc. He made notes on the 81 rooms, to determine what refurbishing and repainting was required to maintain the A-1 standard of the Oasis accommodations.

Fortified with this list, Metzdorf next outlined to the head engineer and maintenance man, Fred Bjorberg, the numerous jobs which had to be done before the Oasis begins its 36th season in Palm Springs. This year cleaning and repainting was not sufficient to maintain the rating of one of the most beautiful dining rooms and lobbies in Palm Springs.

Mirrors Reflect Quality

CHICAGO (UPI)—To judge the quality of a mirror, look in to it. Here's how:

Stand still in front of the mirror, then move slightly, keeping an eye on the reflection. If you detect any waviness or distortion, you're looking at an inexpensive mirror rather than a quality mirror.

There are several differences between the window glass mirrors and plate glass according to Richard M. Clouse, a mirror manufacturer.

He said plate glass makes better mirrors because it is at least 1/4 inch thick and polished on both sides to remove all waviness and imperfections. The glass then is coated with silver, copper and a protective layer of paint.

Window glass mirrors, on the other hand, are simply drawn and fired without polishing. This results in distortions about every 18 inches where waves run through the glass.

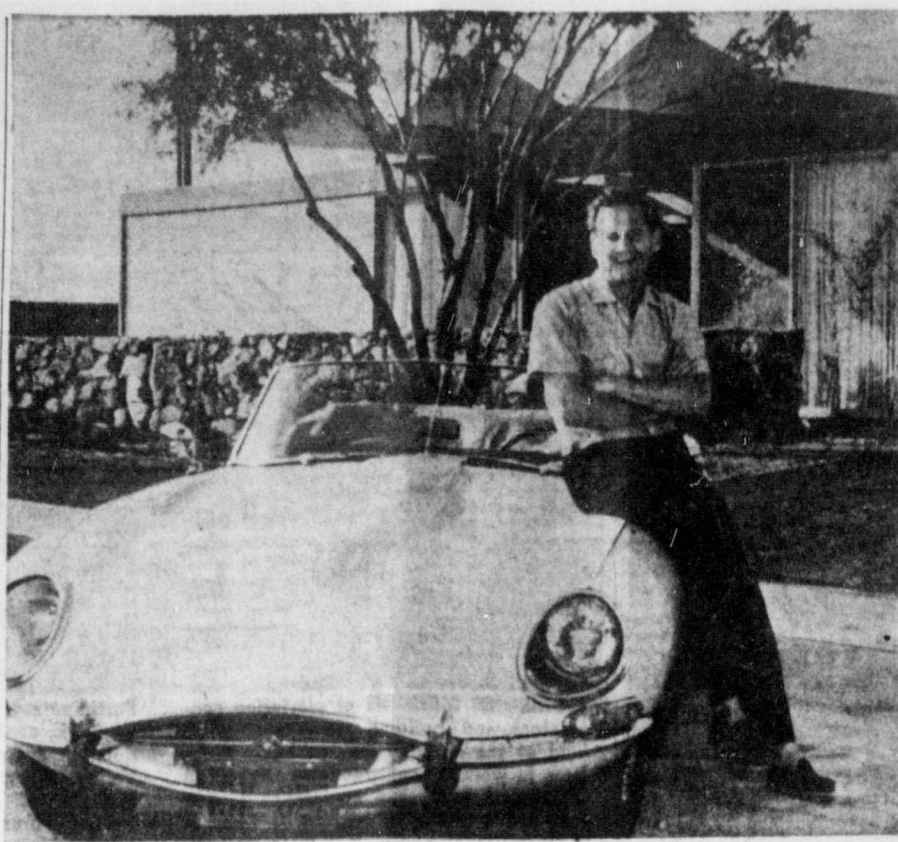

A new type of window glass mirror, called premium glass, represents an improvement over window glass, Clouse said; the waves in the glass are 36 inches apart. It would be possible therefore, to find a small premium glass mirror, no more than 36 inches square, with no distortion, but any larger mirror of this type would still present a distorted image.

Financial Federation In Gains

Financial Federation, Inc., for the first two months of 1962, had a $22,761,000 increase in savings and made new mortgage loans totaling $38,629,000, Edward L. Johnson, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting of the corporation.

He reported that these gains exceeded the performance for the comparable period in 1961, when savings increased $18,433,000 and new loans amounted to $20,585,000. "With our 1961 pattern of growth continuing into 1962, as it appears to be doing, we are confident of a fine earnings performance for the year," he said.

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association of Palm Springs and Indio is one of the eleven affiliated associations of Financial Federation.

In commenting on the current increases in dividend rates paid by California savings and loan associations, Johnson told stockholders, "We are now witnessing expressions of fear from some quarters that these higher dividend rates will lead to practices adverse to the public interest."

"Such expressions are not consistent with the economic facts. The growth factors in the California economy call for an increasing supply of mortgage money. Only by attracting savings dollars in substantial volume can this market be serviced properly and mortgage rates maintained at sensible levels."

The stockholders reelected the company's eleven directors and elected an additional director, Mr. Gottfried E. Karlen of Tacoma, Washington, managing partner of Karlen-Davis Company and former chairman of the board of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco. W. H. Smith, president of Coachella Valley Savings and Loan is one of the directors.

Circus Days Are Here Again

The Desert Circus, which was started away back in 1934, (Mrs. Edna Brott brought in an official ribbon to prove it) is almost upon us.

The gala event, which marks carnival time for Palm Springs, starts its fun-packed course next Wednesday, March 21, and continues through March 25.

It isn't the little church charity that it was when the first annual Desert Circus was a one-day affair but neither is Palm Springs the village it was then. Both have grown mightily.

Palm Springs has long outgrown its boundaries of that day and the Circus lists events not thought of 28 years ago. But the Circus still clings to its initial purpose — to raise money for things which are needed here.

In a way, it's a play time, a gay period such as every community needs.

In keeping with the custom inaugurated a few years back, one of the 50 states of the Union is honored each year. This year it is the turn of Illinois which will furnish the background theme for the 1962 Circus.

One of the most colorful parades in the country will move along Canyon Drive on Saturday, March 24, and that night there will be the Land of Lincoln Ball at El Mirador which will find the guests costumed in glittering sequined Westerns, in calicos and sunbonnets of the Lincoln period or in the feminine and beautiful Mary Todd Lincoln ballgowns.

It provides entertainment for our winter Visitors and packs the town with people who are going to spend something or stay somewhere or at least buy gasoline.

Palm Springs agencies like the Girl and Boy Scouts, Welfare & Friendly Aid and the Boys' Club depend on Desert Circus to provide the funds necessary for continuance and this year, the Ball will raise money for the lagging Community Chest. Volunteer workers (there are only two who are paid for the duration of some six weeks) will sell tickets to the ball and to the fashion show luncheon which will precede the Kangaroo Court at ChiChi. Deputies, who will issue subpoenas for the Kangaroo Court and raid the night spots and sell script at the ball, are all volunteer workers, too.

It's easy enough to stand back and criticize and to decide to let someone else do the job. But this is our town. The responsibility belongs to all of us, and the whole thing can be a lot of fun.

If it is good for Palm Springs it is good for all of us. So, why not make this the biggest and best Circus ever—a boost for the Community Chest and a well-deserved salute to our friends and visitors and winter residents from Illinois, the Land of Lincoln, in the heart of our great Middlewest.

Try for an Ace and Help the Chest

Golf is our middle name.

So what could be more appropriate than to add lustre to another great institution of this area—the annual Desert Circus—by combining it with the ancient game which has brought so much fame to the Desert Empire?

Under the chairmanship of Earle Strebe who had been here for some time when the first Desert Circus was staged in 1934, there will be an event during this year's fun carnival which should lure all of the golfers in the area—and there are a lot of them.

Designed to swell the coffers of the Circus which, in turn, will swell the coffers of the Community Chest, a hole-in-one tournament will be staged in the heart of town during the five-day run of the annual event.

A 130-yard hole will be established on the grounds of the Desert Inn and the tournament will be open to all, amateurs and pros alike, with all receipts going to the Community Chest via the Circus.

George Howard, who came to O'Donnell Golf Club as a pro in 1934 which makes him one of the oldest, in point of service, pros at one course in the nation, and Zell Eaton of the flourishing Municipal Golf Course, are in active charge of the event which is assurance that it will succeed.

You may win a prize and you surely will be helping the faltering Community Chest. So plan to get in on it.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Balderdash and Communal Brainwash

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Here comes the ticker tape parade, with Lyndon there beside him," said the reporter next to me at the Francis Gary Powers hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

There was reason for derision, for disgust and for national self-analysis. Never during my years in Washington (1947-62) have I seen humbug piled so high, or seen senior Senatorial statesmen (several of them my personal heroes) collaborate in balderdash and communal brainwash.

From Chairman Russell's opening statement that Powers had acquitted himself "as an American," it was evident that the Committee (previously briefed in secret by CIA Chairman John McCone) had gathered for the predesigned purpose of publicly exonerating the U-2 pilot and bringing about his social reestablishment.

This is a humane cause and nobody need begrudge the 32-year-old Powers the forgiveness which all of us pray to receive for our own shortcomings. But when Senator Saltonstall, the ranking Republican member, led off the questions by dubbing Powers "a courageous, fine young American," and when Senators Harry Byrd, Symington, Jackson, Bush, Beall and Stennis joined the panegyric, you could tell that Powers was not before a hanging jury. Stennis fed the pilot a line about "the flag" which allowed him to set off a frighteningly psychotic explosion of applause by saying:

"There is one thing I always remembered while I was there, and that is that I am an American."

The next morning, to top the fiasco, the Washington Post juxtaposed two stories so as to invite comparison of Powers with Nathan Hale, the heroic 21-year-old American Revolutionary spy who told his captors, with the hangman's rope around his neck, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

There is a fine statue on Constitution Avenue to Nathan Hale, but a run-down of remarks by the two spies doesn't indicate that

Powers will push Hale off that pedestal. During his Moscow trial in 1950, Powers said these things about giving his life for his country:

"I was deceived by my bosses. I never expected to find such a good treatment here."

"I wanted money to have a good life. I wanted to buy a good home and, if possible, to start a business of some kind . . . When I last extended (the CIA contract) I had some hesitations, and at present I regret that I extended it. Other pilots probably had more sense and they left after their contract term had expired."

"I pleaded to the court to judge me not as an enemy but as a human being who is not a personal enemy of the Russian people . . . and who is deeply repentant and profoundly sorry for what he has done."

Not many of us, perhaps, on trial for our lives would have done much better, but there was one spectator in the crowd who is entitled to an opinion. He had been a Korean prisoner and had earned a Silver Star, the country's third highest award, for personal valor under worse conditions than Powers endured. This qualified witness to the events of the hearing room left there in a nausea of disgust.

There were at least two silent dissenters to the Committee's performance, both of them combat veterans. Senator Strom Thurmond said nothing for the record, but he was inwardly revolted at the crowning of Powers with patriotic laurels. Senator Howard Cannon had to be out of town at an Air Force University seminar and could not get a postponement of the hearing. But I talked with him prior to departure.

While Cannon will withhold final judgment until reading the transcripts of the executive and open hearings, the Nevada Senator starts out with strong opinions that Powers should not be treated as a hero or a martyr. Cannon tells me that the Air Force or the CIA (whichever agrees to take responsibility) did a disgracefully poor job in training and indoctrinating Powers for the necessarily death-defying

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

It doesn't matter where you're from, Far North, 'way South or in between, Tomorrow it's a certainty You'll all be wearing of the Green.

You'll note I did not say "Faith and BeGorra," which is the status symbol of the synthetic Irishman.

MY IRISH FRIENDS, as of tomorrow, March 17, range from natives of Oslo, Asuncion, Strassburg, Senegambia, Shantung, Nogales and Nagasaki to the Volga.

I'll leave it to them to say it. They will, all except my friend from Nagasaki. He says: "Fate and BeGorra."

By this time, you should be aware that I am writing of that great day — St. Patrick's Day — when practically everybody from the frigid reaches of Scandinavia to the streaming jungles of the Congo, is apparently from the Ould Sod.

THE FELINE is touted as having more curiosity per purr than any other living creature. But I have more curiosity than a cat so I did my usual bit of research work for you on the background of Erin's large day.

St. Patrick's Day is not a celebration of his birth, I discovered. It is the anniversary of his death.

The patron saint of Ireland has been honored since the dim, early days.

HIMSELF beloved of Ireland, was no son of Erin but a Scotsman. Pope Celestine sent him to Ireland to convert the pagans to Christianity.

This he did by blending pagan customs with those of the Christian faith — also, no doubt, by blending Christian fervor with a bit of blarney.

Many legends cluster about his name. Good deeds and miracles abound in the folk tales.

HIS GREATEST achievement, however, was his success in giving the snakes the bum's rush, according to these legends.

He chose the shamrock as Ireland's emblem to symbolize the Holy Trinity.

At the same time, with the persuasive tongue of his adopted land, he persuaded the pagans that the shamrock brought good luck.

TOMORROW, Irishmen around the world will celebrate his memory and their nostalgia for the "Ould Sod" with Hibernian breakfasts, march in parades to music of McNamara's band carry flags of green and gold, wear green carnations, carry shillelaghs and shout "Erin go Bragh!"

I was frustrated in my research binge in that nowhere could I find the correct translation for that expression.

I HAVE A FRIEND whose wife is a native of Bally-Brae, Dongannon, County Tyrone. She went back there for a visit recently and changed the habits of the entire area.

She prepared a Mexican dinner for her folks and now all of County Tyrone is eating enchiladas, tacos, chili rellanos and saying "Erin go Bragh, Si?"

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks I'm Houdini. He expects me to do everything with both my hands tied behind my back. He likes to give big parties, but when the bills come he says I'm trying to send him to the poorhouse.

He would like me to go to work (for the money) but wants me at home whenever he is home, and he works a rotating shift. (Go figure that one out!) When we are up late the night before, he tells me not to get up early in the morning, but raises Cain because there's no breakfast. Please print this with any suggestions you may have. —NO HOUDINI

DEAR NO: When your husband snorts and growls, don't take him seriously. He realizes that his demands are impossible. He also knows you aren't Houdini. If you were, you'd have made him disappear years ago.

DEAR ABBY: We frequently have weekend guests. Before retiring I say, "We will serve breakfast at 9 A.M." One of my husband's aunts is an early riser and she is up and dressed and prowling around the kitchen at 6:00 getting her own breakfast. I do not like anyone in my kitchen and I do not care to get up with the chickens to serve my guests at this hour. Have you a solution? —UPSET HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: Either give your early rising guest a "survival kit" before she retires or be a good sport and let her use your kitchen.

DEAR ABBY: My problems are my two sons, 8 and 11. I can't take them anywhere because of the way they act. They are forever fighting with each other. I've had friends and relatives tell me please if I come over to leave the boys home. My neighbors chase them out of their yards and don't want their children playing with mine. My boys are human, Abby, and it hurts me to see them treated this way. Sometimes I feel like knocking their heads off but I have never hit them and it's too late to start now. What should I do? —MRS. Z.

DEAR MRS. Z.: Unfortunately, your sons are paying the price for what you failed to teach them years ago. Help them by explaining that unless they control their tempers and learn to get along with each other (and others) they will have no friends and will never be welcome anywhere. Keep them apart until they learn you mean business. And keep them and it's too late to start

Remember When

March 16, 1962

Van Johnson, popular movie star, was at the Racquet Club resting up between pictures.

A colorful Rainbow Ball was held at the Desert Inn calling attention to a profusion of wild flowers covering the desert floor.

Zaddie Bunker, president of the Desert Art Center, said tickets for the annual Beaux Arts Ball were going fast and on their way to a new record for the event.

March 16, 1962

Walter Coburn of Detroit, a winter visitor, hit a double high. He won a bowling tournament at the local alleys and the next day went to O'Donnell golf course and sank a hole in one.

It was getting warmer in the day time but not at night. Maximum was 82 and minimum 33.

Dr. John Robertson McCartney, pastor of Community church announced that Miss Helen Bennett would be the soloist at the annual Easter Sunrise Service.

March 16, 1962

John Stevens McGroarty presented an Irish program at the Desert Inn in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

Charley Abbott said the much-postponed Horned Toad Derby was definitely set for April 1 and that Gov. Rolph definitely would be here.

Complaints were aired hat ruthless visitors to the desert were want only destroying the profusion of wild flowers which brought them here.

Buron Fitts, Los Angeles County district attorney, accepted an invitation to address the annual meeting of the Riverside County Peace Officers Association here in April.

Letters to The Editor

The Desert Sun Editor:

Your editorial in the Desert Sun regarding the possibility of having investigators for the Public Defender's Office was splendid.

As you know, I have for a long time thought that this was quite necessary and I am delighted that the Desert Sun has undertaken the proposition and I hope that they will carry it through to fruition.

Sincerely,
Hilton H. McCabe

Editor
The Desert Sun

Every so often I read a letter in the Sun that says "Thank You." Now I understand why they are written, and want to add to your collection of such noses.

As publicity director of the Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School Parent-Teacher Guild, the news items I bring are, at best, less than world shaking. It doesn't matter. I am received warmly and with friendly good humor. The willing and expert help and advice makes my publicity job easy and fun to do. School affairs are publicized imaginatively and thoroughly.

All of us in the Guild want you to know that we are aware of this friendly small-town attitude of the Desert Sun and its staff, and we are grateful for it.

Sincerely,

BOB CONSIDINE:

Freedom of Man Still Depends on Man's Mind

NEW YORK — Our Instant ICBM, the Minuteman, had its sixth straight successful test firing at Canaveral a few days ago. Atlas and Titan I and Titan II silos are beginning to pockmark the land from coast to coast, border. Abroad, Western man has the comfort of knowing that the British have 60 hydrogen-tipped Thor's in position and the Italians 30 such catastrophic weapons mounted atop Jupiters. The Navy has about 80 Polaris missiles on station.

But if nuclear war came tomorrow ballistic missiles could account for hardly 10 or 15 per cent of our retaliatory attack. This is the opinion of the highest ranking officers in the U.S. Air Force and the RAF. Each sees a day when missiles will become the prime punch, but if the Klaxon sounded just about now the freedom of man would depend on crews in winged, manned bombers.

Incredible genius has gone into the ballistic missiles now in being. The Minuteman, streaking out of its silo with a roar that would kill an unprotected man by its naked noise, takes a quick reading from an instrument tuned in on the North Star, and thus guides itself. Inside the Polaris submarine, submerged and always moving, always changing direction, the missiles themselves can be fed a fantastic store of information in the few seconds before launch. When they burst surface they know which way to turn, in which direction to fly, when to stop burning, when to lob forth the warhead.

Lacks Judgment

But for all the magic involved, these robots lack what every machine, no matter how sophisticated, must lack for all time: judgment. They cannot be recalled, once launched. They cannot compensate for whatever surprise the enemy might have in store for them as they near the target. They are no more ingenious than must have been the brontosaurus. They cannot come home again, to fight another day.

And so it falls the lot of human beings to maintain the deterrent force. They rise and fall on their hardware. If research and development in military aviation in the U.S. had been dropped with the birth of the B-29 and the F-51 it is quite possible that you would be speaking with a Russian accent today. The Reds, with their long-range turbo-prop bombers, their variety of pure jet bombers and their supersonic fighters would have long since demolished the statement and taken charge.

But the B-29 gave way to the B-50, and that to the B-36, which could fly 10,000 miles. It never dropped a bomb or fired a shot in anger during its half decade or so of preeminence, but you'll find many airmen today who will tell you that this was because it was clearly the greatest bomber of its time—and we, who alone possessed it, were thus not to be messed with.

Yet the B-36, despite the addition of four jet engines to its six big conventional prop-jobs, became as extinct as the Dodo the day the first B-47 flew. The speed of delivery of retaliatory bombs increased 100 per cent immediately, from 300 to 600 mph. Still, that had to go the way of all hardware, too. The B-52 was developed to fly as fast as the B-47 but for infinitely more miles and with vaster bomb loads.

It is nearing the end of the line, as an air frame. But its versatility continues unabated. The "G" version of it carries, among other devastation, two Hound Dog air-breathing missiles capable of launching an H-bomb attack on targets 500 miles away. The Sky Bolt ballistic missile which the "H" model of the B-52 will one day carry will double that off-target range and be much less vulnerable to round defenses. Each "H" will carry four sky bolts, in addition to other bombs, and be able to roam and hide on an air ocean immensely broader than all of the seas of the Earth.

This past week a B-58 bomber crossed the U.S. in just over two hours, refueled over the Atlantic, and flew back to California in well under five hours, total time elapsed. It would have taken the B-52 twice that time. The B-58, for all its speed, cannot pack the punch that makes the B-52 as much of an enforcer of the peace as a policeman's nightstick used to be.

All the above thoughts are in the minds of those in Washington and elsewhere who today find themselves embroiled in what promises to become an ugly fight over the B-70. The 2,000 mph B-70 would represent as clear a leap forward in air superiority as was the B-47 and the advent of pure jets. It would be a super B-58 bearing the arms of a super B-52, fly on the crest of its shock wave, span oceans as today's bombers now plough targets of every truculent power over lakes, utterly command the in the world.

It could launch bits of itself into orbit, as the Titan III will one day launch a man and a bomb in a winged little dart named Dyna-Sor. It could gestate, within its blue prints, the world's first super-sonic commercial transport. It could impose on the world a Pax Americana.

But it is bogged in the mire of bureaucracy, the fight for the several slices of the defense dollar. Only three have been ordered, and little or none of the wealth of "black boxes" which would perforce be a part of a finished B-70.

Air Force leaders, recognizing the distance of that day when the push-button shall prevail, swear there is a critical need for the man-brained B-70 right now. The bomber's detractors assert that this is nonsensical. The truth lies somewhere in between—and it will not be illuminated by attacks as interperate as those which Gen. Bob Scott, USAF (Ret.) made on Secretary of Defense McNamara the other night on Jack Paar's screen.

QUOTES

ROME — Giulio Ascarelli, press spokesman for the film "Cleopatra," on rumors that film star Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher may dissolve their marriage:

"The whole thing is absurd."

NEW YORK—Transport Workers Union President Michael J. Quill, referring to well-known attorney Roy Cohn, who represents a bus line in a dispute with the TWU:

"This man Roy Cohn should be sent to a school for wayward girls to learn how to conduct himself."

SHIP BOTTOM, N. J. — John W. Boots, surveying the remains of his $40,000 plane destroyed by raging Atlantic tides:

"I think we're going to find a hill somewhere and live on top of it."

'Minutemen' Claim Reds to Invade U.S.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk released a report Thursday of remarks made by a leader of the "Minutemen" organization last month indicating that several hundred thousand Chinese communists troops were in Mexico waiting to invade the United States.

The individual, who addressed a meeting held in the Armory of the National Guard's 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, said the Chinese troops "wouldn't get very far, maybe only up to Long Beach, Calif.," according to Mosk's report.

The unidentified leader of the civilian guerrilla movement claimed his organization had a following of 50,000 in Southern California.

Mosk said statements by the speaker at the Feb. 6 meeting "clearly reveal the irrational thinking which is behind such movements as the Minutemen."

"Although we are keeping a close watch on such movements," Mosk said, "There has been little evidence that either the organization, the ammunition or the weapons are any more real than the Chinese communists which the speaker claims are present in Mexico."

Maj. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, adjutant of the National Guard, disclosed earlier that the speaker had been permitted to appear at the guard session by Maj. Dana Backus of Los Angeles. Backus last week was accused of trying to set up a spy network in the state and was released from the National Guard.

TEENANGELS and friends gathered at the Desert Air Hotel recently for an outing. It was the last get-together before the big contest begins to raise money for the Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital in Desert Hot Springs as the girls must now work alone as they compete for highest donations to the fund drive, which closes April 12. The Dunes Party which is pictured above raised $38 and the County Fair collection amounted to $118.03.

RANCHO MIRAGE

Arizona Party For No. 91

RANCHO MIRAGE — A birthday party was the occasion of Mrs. Ruth St. Clair's week in Topock, Ariz. Every year Mrs. St. Clair, her brother, Donald Judkins of Long Beach, another brother, Alden Judkins, and sisters, Mrs. Marguerite Evans and Mrs. A. Hubbs drive to Topock to honor their father, C. E. Judkins on his birthday. Friends and neighbors call him the "Mayor" and this year, his 91st, friends brought elk meat from Montana for this dinner that was climaxed by a decorated cake and the best wishes of the many in attendance.

Among the guests at the White Sun Guest Ranch last week were 13 tourists from Germany who enjoyed horseback riding and a typically western steak-fry at the Ranch followed with singing their German songs around the campfire. They also visited the Desert Air Hotel and El Dorado Country Club.

At the White Sun this week are Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Malcolm and Mr. and Mrs. E. Maynard from Vancouver, B. C.; Mr. and Mrs. M. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. James Vanlom and their families from Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Kirk Ashly from San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Molloy and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ingold from Hillsboro.

Weekend houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helvar and family were Mr. and Mrs. R. Carlson, his father A. J. Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. V. Wickland from Winnipeg, Can.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fincher and boys Kim and Mike spent the weekend in Los Angeles visiting with relatives.

New Reducing Method May Prove Popular

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The chairman of the Nutrition Department of the Harvard School of Public Health came up with a novel method for losing weight—eating six or seven meals a day.

Dr. Frederick J. Stare told a news conference that weight-conscious persons should eat six or seven small meals a day rather than three large ones.

He said partakers in the frequent snack program would consume fewer calories during a 24 hour period than those who get most of their calories from one large evening meal.

On vacation from her home in Elma, Iowa, Grace Olsen is spending two weeks at the Casa Verde Apartments. At the Casa Verde for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. L. Greenberg from Playa Del Rey, Mrs. C. Runswick and Alice Barnett from Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Steinhauer from Fresno and Mr. and Mrs. Holloway from Reseda.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCallum returned to their Rancho Mirage home Thursday after attending the Imperial Fair where Jack participated in the Rodeo. They also visited in Mexico.

At the Sun Dial Apartments for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Stockton from Buelton, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thomas of Bijou, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawe of the Kissing Camels Golf Club in Colorado Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Willis from San Bernardino, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorburn from Portland, Ore.

For the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Fred Franklin had as their houseguests Jim Strutzel, his son Jod and friend Johnny from Rolling Hills. Saturday they attended the Angels opening game at the Polo Grounds and Sunday they enjoyed golf at the Shadow Mountain Club. Sunday the Franklins were guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Otto for dinner.

Spending this week at Nelson's Motel are Mr. and Mrs. William Brennan from Santa Cruz and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hetzel from Port Townsend, Wash. at Nelson's over the weekend were John Shrawder of Sacramento, Rudolph E. Bundas from Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. August Eisenbach of Escondido, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young from Los Angeles.

DEMONSTRATIONS PLANNED

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Cuban Democratic Revolutionary Rescue Organization reports that refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba will demonstrate April 14, America's Day, seeking U.S. arms and cash to free Cuba of communism.

Demonstrations are scheduled in New York, Miami, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, San Juan and in other cities. Pickets also will go to the White House in Washington to petition President Kennedy "to make good his promise of last April not to abandon Cuba," the organization said Thursday.

Ag Imports Dropped Last Year

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department Announced U.S. agricultural imports in fiscal 1961 totaled $306 billion the lowest in 11 years.

Imports from July, 1960, June, 1961, were 9 per cent below the $4 billion in the previous fiscal year. Volume fell by 4 per cent.

The department said the decrease to a large extent reflected the slowdown in U.S. business activity throughout most of fiscal 1961. The drop-off was about equally divided between supplementary, or partially competitive, and complementary, or non-competitive, items.

Agricultural commodities accounted for 26 per cent of the total imports for consumption in both 1960 and 1961.

The United States is the world's second largest agricultural importer, accounting for about one-sixth of world agricultural imports. The United Kingdom is slightly ahead of the United States as an importer of farm products. The U.S. market for agricultural imports is relatively stable. Although the U.S. population has increased more than 50 per cent. Upward movements in world prices, for the most part, have accounted for the two-thirds rise in value since the late 1920's.

Supplementary commodities comprise about half of the value of U.S. agricultural imports. During the 1950's, an average of 44 per cent of the agricultural imports supplemented the output of U.S. agriculture.

In the past three years, supplementary imports have risen to half of the agricultural total mainly due to larger purchases of cattle, meats, fruits, vegetables, copra, and tobacco. Imports of meats and non-breeding cattle — the major factor in the rise — 25 per cent from the 1959 peak and 2½ times the 1957 level. Some fruits and vegetables are imported, mostly from Canada and Mexico, in greatest amounts during the winter and early spring months. Also imported are commodities such as cheese specialties, certain types of hides and skins, short harsh Asiatic cotton, and various oriental tobaccos. Other supplementary imports are sugar, vegetable oils, nuts, and grains.

The longest annual migration of any bird is the 22,000 miles some individual Arctic terns fly from the Arctic to the Antarctic.

Reds Fail to Solve Agriculture Problem

By PHIL NEWSOM

If any one department were to be selected as a symbol of Communist failure, then agriculture would have to be a foremost candidate.

Agriculture shortcomings in the Soviet Union have preoccupied Nikita Khrushchev since last November.

In the Soviet Union, private enterprise among the peasants continues to confound the economic planners by producing the bulk of Soviet eggs, milk, poultry and a large proportion of its meat supply.

Totally collectivized East Germany, once the larder of the whole of Germany, cannot produce enough to feed itself. Poland's farmers, enjoying more latitude than most within the Communist empire, have demonstrated indisputably that they value private ownership of a horse above communal partnership in a tractor.

Hungary, once a food exporting nation, is in just as bad agricultural shape as East Germany.

In 1958, as part of the "great leap forward," Red China began jamming 500 million people into 10,000 giant communes. Private enterprise, as well as family life, was to disappear in an overnight lunge toward the perfect Communist state.

Even as dedicated a Communist as Khrushchev ridiculed the idea, and thus perhaps for the first time disclosed the now widely advertised rift with Red Chinese Leader Mao Tse-tung.

The communes have not been abandoned, nor are they likely to be during the lifetime of Mao. But the old backward steel furnaces and other home industries which were to provide the communes with much of their own equipment, long since have disappeared.

More recently, many communal dining halls, nurseries and other facilities have been closed or used only part of the time.

A Swiss professor who visited Red China in 1961, wrote:

"The party's instructions... encourage rural fairs where the peasants sell the product of their individual work — vegetables, fruits, poultry, eggs, sometimes a pig, more rarely a cow."

Not for the world would the Communists consider this a concession to capitalism. Instead it is an "adjustment" to bring "into the commune members" in production" and "mobilize the whole party and the whole nation to support agriculture."
